

Thieves target allotments

36 sheds attacked in one night

By Paul Crompton

THEIVES have left Dorchester shocked after the worst night of thefts in residents' living memory saw 36 sheds attacked in just a few hours.

Plot holder and town mayor Councillor Leslie Phillips has issued a plea for residents to shop the thieves who prowled the allotment sheds hunting for gardening equipment.

A garden rotovator, a petrol lawn mower and a strimmer were amongst the items stolen from Herrington Road allotments between 9pm June 23rd and 9am the next day.

Councillor Leslie Phillips, who has tendered a plot for eight years, branded the thieves "mindless rouses".

He said: "They must have been organised gang looking for electrical tools; I've been up to my allotment and thought my unit was still locked but from what I hear they used a drill make a hole to look inside it."

"I think these are the sort of thefts that are involved with drug users, people trying to steal things to actually furnish their drug habits."

"I never heard of anything like this happening to 36 sheds, it must have been planned. It means going around that allotment site, and they could have stayed until the early hours and nobody would have seen them.

"The answer is please, if you are offered any of these things, think first and then call the police."

Herrington Road Allotment Coordinator, Ken

STUART Lovell is busy preparing for this week-end's Bridport Charter Fair where he will be stewarding for the third time.

Having moved to Dorset from the New Forest, for his work as a Landscape Gardener, Stuart fell in love with the county.

Since moving to Bridport in 2000 Stuart has nurtured his love of live performance working backstage for Encore and Bow theatre companies and, for the past three years, as a steward at the Charter Fair.

Stuart took to the stage just once in an Encore production of "Katherine Howard" which won three awards at the Llandrindod Wells Drama Festival.

With a 100 per cent success rate on the stage Stuart now gets his enjoyment watching from the wings and stage managing.

This year's Charter Fair will take place in Bridport this Saturday, July 3rd.

■ WHAT first attracted you to Dorset?

My business actually bought me to Dorset. It's a lovely area and you can't get away from that fact, that's what kept me here. Where I moved to in Dorset, was very similar to the area I was bought up in when I was young and before I moved to the area I was living in just outside Southampton was becoming more and more built up. Down here you drop back about ten years, it's a lovely area and there are no two ways about it.

■ HOW did you first get involved with the Bridport Charter Fair?

I had always attended the charter fair but it was only about three-years-ago I got involved with it. I was there first thing in the morning because a friend was doing a craft stall and Arthur Woodgate was there. I said 'you could do with a bit more help' and he said 'next year I'll give you a ring', consequently I have been involved for the past three-years.

■ WHAT makes the charter fair special?

Just the atmosphere I think, especially in the last few years when it has been revitalised. I always look forward to seeing more people get involved, especially the young people. The original charter was granted in 1253, I think Arthur Woodgate was there when it was originally created, so having been created 700-years-ago it would seem sensible to celebrate it as it is Bridport's link to its heritage.

■ WHAT are you looking forward to this year?

I think all of the rights respecting community events that are taking place. I would love to see that work out successfully in its own right. It would be nice if that was the success I hope it will be, I'm sure it would make the town a better place.

■ WHO would be your three dream guests at a dinner party?

I would have loved to have conversed with the late Ronnie Barker, I think that he was such a tremendous all round entertainer. Kenneth Williams, I think you would only need to say hello to him to get him talking. The third guest would be Victoria Wood. She is a lady who is extraordinarily talented, "Dinnerladies" was a wonderful series, I'd love to meet her.

■ WHAT are the best shows you've worked on locally?

From Encore the most rewarding show I did was with the late Tony Anthony when we did "Noises Off". That was quite something to put on and a lot of people said we could not make the set, which we did and it worked. From a personal point of view that was quite something. I also enjoyed the Little Shop of Horrors where I operated the plant because it was a little something unusual. I enjoyed both of them in particular I think.

■ WHAT was the last book you read, CD you listened to and film you watched?

At the moment I'm reading Alan Bennett "Untold Stories". When you read Alan Bennett you can almost hear him saying the words. The last CD I listened to was probably Dire Straits, I listening to them on a fairly regular basis and Brothers in Arms is a particular favourite. I enjoy sixties and seventies music, Queen, Status Quo and things that aren't particularly fashionable now. The last film I watched was "An Education" over in Lyme Regis.

■ WHICH three items would you put into room 101?

People who speak on mobile phones all the time. Mobile phones are a wonderful thing but when you walk through the street and you see people shouting and waving their arms about, it's terribly annoying. They have got a place and in some cases that is in the bin. The other two would be people who allow their dogs to foul the footpath and people who don't show respect for others.

Vandals attack young trees

THE Dorset County Council have condemned the "pointless" destruction of five young lime trees in Dorchester.

The five trees were planted just three-years-ago, with help from local charities, and were part of an avenue of 75 limes planted on the B3147 Yeovil road, near Loders Garage in Dorchester.

The work was done by the county council together with the Dorchester Civic Society, the Dorset branch of the International Tree Foundation and the Duchy of Cornwall.

Last week, five of the trees have been found vandalised, having been snapped off at the base by force. It will mean considerable cost to the council to replant and nurture new trees to keep the avenue complete.

The trees were planted as part of a project to enhance the entrance into Dorchester from the north-west.

The benefit of the lime trees is both aesthetic and to help offset the effects of climate change, as they filter airborne dust and pollution and convert carbon dioxide to oxygen. And, as the trees get more mature, they provide food and nesting sites for birds, animals and insects.

By Tom Glover

Since being planted, the trees have been lovingly maintained each year by the county council and volunteers to ensure their survival.

Steve Maros, Dorset County Council arboricultural manager, said: "These trees have been maturing into beautiful specimens. But sadly their benefit has been seriously undermined by the mindless vandalism carried out by one or more persons."

"In the past few days we have had five of these beautiful trees snapped off. It is a totally pointless waste of lovely trees, as well as public money."

Any members of the public who see the trees being vandalised are asked to report it immediately to the police or the county council.

The council will take legal action against anybody caught vandalising its trees.

Contact the local police station on (01305) 222222 or the county council on (01305) 228159.

Thieves target allotment sheds

ment Co-ordinator Ken Lambert, who discovered the attacks, said he thought the sheds were broken into using bolt croppers or a jemmy bar.

"I've been an allotment holder here, on the same plot for 46 years and never had anything like this before, nothing on this scale, we've had the odd break-in but nothing this big," he said.

"Everyone is very, very annoyed, when you think 36 sheds broken into and say that's £20 each to put right it works out to be several hundred pounds, but its also the inconvenience of it, some people have to replace doors on their sheds."

The 100 allotment holders at the site were just days from utilising DNA technology - special easily identified liquid - to mark their tools for such an incident as this.

Some of the older equipment is already post-code marked to make them easily identifiable.

PC Kristy Heron said: "I believe it would have taken the offenders quite some time to have searched through all of these sheds."

"It's quite possible that the offenders loaded a nearby vehicle with the stolen property before making off."

"I am appealing for anyone who witnessed this incident, and anyone who recalls suspicious vehicles outside the allotments to contact me urgently."

Anyone with information should call 01305 222222 or crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Thomas Hardy wins top teaching award

HARDWORK and inspirational efforts toward sustainability by Dorchester pupils have been recognised at a teaching award ceremony.

Thomas Hardy pupils received a trophy from TV brain-box Carol Vorderman at the bash after scooping the Sustainable Schools National Teacher Award.

The specialist science college was nominated after the Thomas Hardy Student Voice gave an assembly to Puddletown's St Mary's Year eight pupils on ways of reducing the carbon footprint.

Pupils representing the Student Voice met ex-countdown star Vorderman with Thomas Hardy's assistant headteacher Kaye Chittenden, ICT technician Mike Faulkner and St Mary's pupil Antonia Pullen-Clarke.

Judges said: "The sustainability agenda permeates life at the school and gives scope for students to enhance their learning and their knowledge of the planet."

"Experts brought in to discuss global issues with students and the ability to host the community lectures to inform local people of the work has encouraged active participation from others."

Judges praised Headteacher Dr Iain Melvin for empowering staff to develop and experiment with sustainability, which includes a culture of recycling and energy saving measures including labelling electrical appliances.

His work has seen the school embrace the new culture, with a dining room now run in house providing healthy options, locally sourced food and Fair Trade drinks.

Following an audit, pipes and valves have been lagged, and electric doors installed to save heat.

Thomas Hardy has worked with a number of groups and organisation including the Duchy of Cornwall, the Jurassic Coast Project and the Environment Agency.

The judges described the school as "an exceptional establishment", adding: "The school's ethos is relentless optimism which underpins its belief in its young people and the future."

"Walking through the school it is apparent in every avenue that sustainable activities are embedded here."

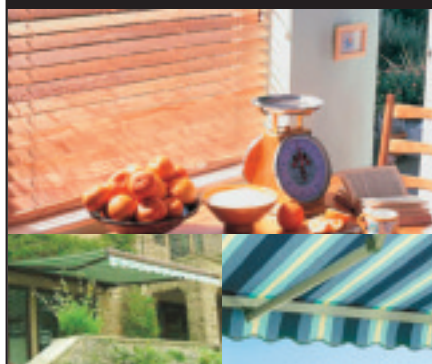

The school will now go on to represent the West of England for the national finals in London this October.

Merger between council services up for discussion

by Harry Walton

MILLIONS of pounds would be saved if a "merger" is backed between Weymouth and Portland and West Dorset councils.

Both authorities are considering a joint business case for creating a single officer management and staffing structure delivering services to 162,000 residents, over 6,100 businesses and millions of visitors to the area.

The business case shows the bringing services together could save £2.5 million a year and £8.8 million over five years after meeting implementation costs.

The proposal does not substantially alter the ability of the two authorities' 84 councillors to play their full representational and leadership roles on behalf of their respective communities.

If implemented, the business case highlights a number of key decisions that will affect the 850 staff currently employed by the two councils.

More work is needed to minimise the disruption to staff in the short term and to harmonise the terms and conditions of staff in the longer term, says the business case.

Below the senior management tier any change will be delivered as opportunities present themselves, with an expectation that staff numbers will reduce over a sustained period of time.

Both councils have experience of successfully working together through a pioneering revenues and benefits partnership which has improved services and saved £1 million since it started.

Weymouth and Portland corporate affairs spokesman Councillor Geoff Petherick said: "Local government is facing huge financial pressures, which could lead to devastating cuts in service."

"Although we will still face some difficult choices, by sharing our officer structures across two councils, we can make significant savings that can be used to help protect vital services and make improvements where needed."

West Dorset council leader Councillor Robert Gould added "Along with savings already identified by our efficiency scrutiny committee, and those that will result from the move to new offices in Dorchester, the savings arising from partnership working will help West Dorset maintain most services at their current levels despite the impact of major cuts to the grant we receive from Government identified by the Chancellor in his budget."

"In preparing the business case we have given consideration as to how this partnership fits into wider arrangements for collaboration with other public sector providers across Dorset, and with Bournemouth and Poole, with the aim being to ensure that nothing prejudices further wider collaboration in the medium to long term.

Other councils elsewhere in the country have already shown that by sharing staff they can make significant savings and we are no different."

Members of West Dorset District Council will consider the report at their executive committee on July 5th and council on July 15th while councillors in Weymouth and Portland borough council will discuss it at their management committee on July 6th and council on July 22nd.

Community farm for Poundbury

MEMBERS of Transition Town Dorchester are campaigning to create a community farm and garden on Poundbury, and launched the initiative by holding an open day to gather ideas and exchange views with members of the public.

People from the group initially approached the Duchy of Cornwall with a view to leasing two acres of land behind the Weymouth College Construction Centre at Parkway Farm, which they now have on a pepper-corn rent.

They are now keen to involve as many people as possible to move the project forward.

A great deal of interest has been shown in this project, and plans are already in progress for a possible layout of the land.

People have come forward with a whole range of ideas, all of which will be given due consideration and incorporated if at all possible.

As well as plans for a pond and wildlife area, pigs, bees and chickens could soon be sharing the land with fruit trees, soft fruit cages and polytunnels.

nels.

Raised beds for planting, with emphasis on making the whole area accessible to the disabled, could soon stand beside picnic tables and vines to see a community farm with countless possibilities.

This scheme is open to anyone, whether they are seasoned gardeners or interested in learning, already have their own garden or would like to become involved in this exciting project.

All produce will be grown communally rather than on individual plots, but organisers say they are working on a system to ensure everyone gets a fair share of the home grown fruit and vegetables.

And better still, it is free to take part.

Ian Reeves of Transition Town Dorchester said: "We held a very successful Open Day in which local residents had the opportunity to find out more about the farm and put forward their own suggestions.

"Any local organisations are more than welcome to join in and we shall be establishing a management committee to oversee the project."

It is hoped that an initial meeting will be held on July 14th, and more information will soon be available on the website www.transitiontown-dorchester.org.

Bogus telephone call warning

THE Charity Commission has warned of people making bogus telephone calls purporting to represent them demanding payments for various services and advertisements.

The government department has been made aware of a scam involving people being telephoned by individuals claiming to represent the Charity Commission. In the phone calls these individuals claim to be from the "debt collection department" of the commission and they demand payments for various services and advertisements. Some of the calls have demanded payments of thousands of pounds.

The Commission has been contacted by a number of people who have received calls of this nature and has already reported this matter to the police, and have issued the following statement: "It is important to be clear that any call from someone claiming to work with, or on behalf of the Charity Commission, and claiming any payment in a threatening way, is clearly bogus.

"The Charity Commission does not charge for any of its services to charities; it does not get involved in debt collection either directly or through contracting third parties to do so, and nor does it collect debt on behalf of charities.

"You should immediately report these sorts of incidents to the police, and the Charity Commission would also like to be informed where its name is being used for suspected fraudulent purposes."

School thank you for hospital ward

DAMERS First School are fast gaining a reputation for their generosity, sense of community involvement and amazing fundraising skills.

Popular former Chairman of Governors Julian Slade lost a brave fight against acute myeloid leukaemia last year, during which time he spent many hours receiving treatment in the Fortuneswell Unit at Dorset County Hospital.

The care and support both he and his family received was so good, that Damers First School wanted to show their appreciation of the wonderful staff of the unit and the vital work they carry out.

Staff and children from the school visited the Fortuneswell Unit to hand over a cheque for £622.

This was raised through two extremely popular events, a disco organised by Damers School PTA and featuring DJ Debbie Daft, and the Ballroom Bonanza held in the Corn Exchange attended by hundreds of staff, parents and children.

Julian's wife, Katie, said: "I want to give a huge thank you to Damers First School.

"Their hard work in raising such a wonderful sum of money is very, very much appreciated."

Huge send off for showman Steve

OBITUARY: By Anita Harries

EVERY now and then someone crosses your path who has a profound effect on your life. One such person was Steve Charles, a person who passed through the lives of so many and left his own particular mark on every single one.

Creative, talented, fun loving and full of life to the very end, what this popular local musician lacked in stature he more than made up for in heart. There was nothing Steve wouldn't do for you. He was the kind of friend many people would love, always laughing, always lending a hand, always there when you needed someone.

An inspiration to countless young musicians, his energy and enthusiasm for life saw no bounds. His own group, Nobby's Cousins, were incredibly popular and very successful.

Steve had the kind of approach to life many envied. He thought he could do anything – and often did. He loved a drink, he loved his music, he loved his skittles. He even tried to love golf. But most of all he loved his family and he loved his friends.

Steve's life was cruelly cut short when he lost his courageous battle with throat cancer and he died peacefully in the Joseph Weld Hospice surrounded by his family. But a showman to the very end, he had painstakingly planned his funeral during the last weeks of his life. Where else but the Corn Exchange in Dorchester could cope with the funeral of the little man with a huge personality.

This wonderful, but often very emotional, celebration of the life of Steve Charles, was full of music chosen by the great man himself.

Pall bearers, including his son Stefan, fellow members of Nobby's Cousins, and best man from his wedding Bob Appleton, carried the coffin into the hall to the strains of Pink Floyd's Comfortably Numb. Beautifully created by Alan "Sparky" Clarke, husband of Steve's sister Rosita, this was no ordinary coffin, but an amazing white guitar, holding an amazing musician.

Steve would have been proud of son Stefan and the remarkable way he conducted the day. Tributes were paid by Steve's sisters Rosita, Serena and Petra, his father Robert, and many friends, tears mixing with laughter as fond memories of a lovely person were recounted with genuine feeling.

Musical interludes included Enter Sandman by Metallica and of course Rainbow Bazaar by Nobby's Cousin's. Hundreds of those who attended took the time to write final messages to Steve across the white coffin before the family left for a private cremation amid the music of Close My Eyes Forever by Ozzy Osborne.

An afternoon of music and memories ended a fitting celebration to someone who will be sorely missed.

And no doubt Steve was looking down on the whole thing, beer in one hand, guitar in the other, saying: "Yes! I can still fill the Corn Exchange even when I've gone." God Bless, Steve. You will leave a big hole in all of our lives, but one which can be filled with the countless memories you leave behind.

Successful year for homeless charity

A HOMELESS charity in Dorchester has helped 30 people to get off the streets into new homes during the last year.

The Friends of Dorchester Hub reported a successful 12 months at their recent AGM.

Chairman Annabel Broome said: "During the last 12 months the Hub has seen around 31 individuals a month and helped 30 individuals into resettlement.

"We very much hope that this trend will continue in the future, with agencies working together to take people from the streets and put a roof over their heads."

The Hub is a daytime drop in centre for the homeless, offering warmth, practical help and advice.

Open five mornings a week for regular users, and certain afternoons for appointments, the service is now managed by Bournemouth Churches Housing Association and is going from strength to strength. This has also allowed the trustees to direct their energies into supporting the Hub by fundraising, attracting and supporting volunteers, and keeping the service in the public eye. Resettlement brings problems that need to be overcome.

Margaret Barker, secretary, treasurer and the force behind the creation of the Hub, said: "Each person who is resettled is given between £80 and £100 to spend at either Dorset Reclaim or Second Chance Furniture to purchase goods for their property.

"The homeless are now able to use the Food Bank at the Dorford Centre and meal tickets can still be purchased to use at week-ends and bank holidays."

The policy of getting as many Hub users housed as possible and then working with them to enable them to stay has been well supported by many statutory agencies this year and its value was shown during the very harsh cold winter when there was no-one sleeping rough in the Dorchester area.

Another addition to the Hub, one of real significance, has been nurse practitioner Julia Whiting.

With her own portacabin at the Hub, Julia has seen countless homeless people with a whole range of medical problems.

To complement her work, there is a mental health nurse who visits, supported by the Community Mental Health Team.

And monthly visits from the dental van have also proved an asset.

Julia has worked incredibly hard to provide these services, but perhaps her most memorable moment was her very first pregnancy and childbirth among the homeless.

With help and support from the Hub in resettlement, the mother was allowed to keep her baby.

Rotary host charity auction

THE Rotary Club of Dorchester will be holding an auction to raise money for Rotary International's campaign to eradicate polio in third world countries.

The auction will take place at Kingston Maurward College on Thursday, July 15th at 7pm.

Garry Batt of Duke's Auction House, Dorchester, will be in charge of the auction, where 44 lots will go under the hammer.

Among the lots is a day trip in a luxury Mercedes car for three people with lunch to the value of £30, a harbourside Sunday lunch experience for two at Vaughan's Restaurant in Weymouth, and a House of Dorchester chocolate tour for four people. Tickets cost £10 each and include a glass of wine and buffet.

Tickets can be obtained by ringing 07598 977027 or emailing polioauction@yahoo.co.uk.

Polio is a highly infectious disease caused by a virus and for which there is no known cure. It can only be prevented through immunisation, and mainly affects children under the age of five.

One simple vaccine, at a cost of 50p per child, can give protection for life, and the world is on the verge of eradicating this cruel disease, an illness that crippled over half a million people during the first half of the 20th century.

Twenty-eight-years-ago Rotary International made a promise to the children of the world to eradicate polio. It is now prevalent in only four countries – Afghanistan, India, Pakistan and Nigeria.

The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation have given Rotary International 355 million dollars on the understanding that the Rotarians of the world will match this sum with another 200 million dollars.

"I never dreamt for one minute I would win this, it's fantastic," said Jane, a senior bank counsellor.

"My children have already said they want it, but I'm saying no way.

"The irony is I came and did a digital photography course here at the college, so I really do know how to use it."

Jane says she's look-

The open day at the Dorchester campus attracted more than 6,000 visitors who enjoyed a country fair,

A fete straight out of a fairy tale

■ TOWN crier Alistair Chisholm tries to bat the rat

■ HOMEMADE cakes for sale

THE Reverend Vicky Thurtell used her hotline to St Peter when she threw open the pearly gates of the vicarage for the church fete in brilliant sunshine.

Opened with an appropriate cry from Town Crier Alistair Chisholm, ably supported by the Mayor of Dorchester, Councillor Leslie Phillips and his wife Vonty, St Peter's Fete made the most of a beautiful summer's day.

Homemade cakes and preserves, books, bric-a-brac, and plants dotted the lawn. Those with a lucky streak tried their hand at the tombola, treasure hunt, bat the rat and hook a duck. And there was even a demonstration of the art of spinning by a gentleman who found a spot in the shade to spin and chat.

The fete had an Alice in Wonderland theme, complete with Alice, the White Rabbit, the Mad Hatter, and the Queen of Hearts.

With top hats adorning many a head, there was even a Mad Hatter's Tea Party and, in the very best Alice in Wonderland fashion, a chance to try your hand at croquet.

■ OPENING the fete are Mayoress Vonty Phillips, The Reverend Vicky Thurtell, Alistair Chisholm, Mayor of Dorchester Leslie Phillips, the Mad Hatter, the White Rabbit, Alice and the Queen of Hearts

It's picnic time for little teddy bears

EVERY inch of shade in the Bournemouth Gardens, Dorchester, was taken by families turning up to join in the 23rd Teddy Bear's Picnic in soaring temperatures.

Cold drinks and ice creams were very much the order of the day in the blistering heat, with children cooling off in the fountain and the water feature in the play area.

With the day running smoothly thanks to the fun loving folk of Ridgeway

By Anita Harries

Radio, games were organised for the children in this popular free event put on by Dorchester Town Council.

Teddy bears of every size, shape and colour, came along with their owners to enjoy the weather and an afternoon of music, laughter and competition.

With all the usual games manned by town councillors there were no losers as children bashed the rat, rolled the marbles, and shoved the halfpenny. Face painting, mural painting, fishing for ducks and skittles kept the young people occupied, and many found enough energy in the heat to bounce away on the Bouncy Castle.

If they weren't red in the face before they went on, they certainly were when they came off.

An appearance by the Carnival Band got the proceedings off to a great start, following the official opening by the Mayor of Dorchester, Councillor Leslie Phillips.

Sack races for both parents and their offspring joined a cancan competition for the mums and a juggling competition for mums and dads.

A junior carnival band had their counterparts quaking in their boots as they created their own particular band of music in front of the bandstand.

Children sang and danced their way through the afternoon before the grand finale, the parade of teddy bears. Then followed the chaos of the teddy bear awards, with prizes for the smallest, the biggest, the oldest and the hairiest bear amongst others. And there were prizes for many of the other animals who infiltrated the teddy bear's Picnic including snakes, meercats, dogs and dinosaurs.

Town Clerk, Dennis Holmes wound down the day with the prize raffle before lots of very weary children made their way home.

Blooming marvellous festival at Athelhampton House

OWERMOIGNE Flower Club held their prestigious annual flower festival at Athelhampton House, this year entitled "The Butcher, the Baker, the Candlestick Maker".

This historic house formed a beautiful backdrop to the exquisite designs put together by the club's members.

Each of the rooms open to the public housed flower arrangements which perfectly complemented their surroundings, the vibrant colours of the blooms creating a stunning picture against the costumes, furnishings and artwork of this splendid house.

Although this year's theme was "The Butcher, the Baker, the Candlestick Maker", this was cleverly expanded by the ladies and gentlemen of Owermoigne Flower Club to encompass a wide range of occupations both past and present.

With each individual choosing an occupation that held some special meaning for them, the arrangements they created were both alluring in the way the flowers cascaded in rivers of colour and skilful in the way relevant items were introduced to produce the finished picture.

Every imaginable occupation was represented at the flower festival. The fisherman, the hurdler, the groom, the travel agent, the nurse and the composer all had their place among the ancient rooms and corridors of Athelhampton House.

The vintner, with its rich red blooms, stood proudly amongst the wine bottles in the cellar. The plumber stood out against a highly polished copper bath, the clergyman blossomed forth from an ornate wooden font, while the military man stood to attention amongst a fine display of period costume.

Flowering cup cakes, ropes, paint brushes, and even a blackboard and easel, were all quite brilliantly incorporated into the designs. Prize winning exhibits were also on display, with Diana Holman's marriage guidance counsellor awarded a silver gilt medal at the Chelsea Flower Show in the "In the Mood" class.

Outside on the lawns were more arrangements, including Philippa Loudon's wonderful suspension bridge as her interpretation of the civil engineer.

There was also an impressive example of willow weaving from Jan Lightfoot.

This was the front section of a 30ft dragon commissioned by the National Trust at Corfe Castle, for whom Jan is a volunteer. The dragon in its entirety had been fought by St George and many visiting children during the Easter holidays.

The festival was held in aid of local charities, with the proceeds from this year going to the Women's Refuge.

Picnic for peace

BARRY Tempest addresses those gathered at the Tiananmen memorial

SEVERAL years ago the Dorchester and District Group of Amnesty International organised the planting of a tree in the Borough Gardens.

This was to be a living memorial to all who died, disappeared or suffered in some other way during the 1989 Tiananmen Square demonstration in Beijing. And every year since then, the Group has adopted a Chinese custom and held a picnic by the tree on or around the anniversary of the massacre.

Sharing food together they spend a few quiet moments in reflection, looking positively to the future and to ways of securing or improving human rights across the globe.

Barry Tempest, Chairman of the local Amnesty group, voiced his concerns and said: "The rise to international influence of China, while it is to be welcomed on many grounds, casts into the future a long shadow of contempt for legitimate forms of protest and other activities to which all members of the United Nations have given their assent in signing up to the UN Universal Declaration of Human Rights."

Discussion followed on subjects as diverse as the legitimacy of the Gaza blockade to the reaction of the United States to the environmental disaster facing the Gulf Coast following the continuing oil spill.

RESCUE group launched

■ STUDENTS at Kingston Maurwood College were given a lesson on road safety

STUDENTS at Kingston Maurwood College were given a lesson on road safety last week.

The newly launched RESCUE (Road Education for Schools, Colleges, Universities and Everyone else) road safety team visited the college and emergency services representatives and crash victims shared their knowledge and experiences.

RESCUE aims to educate people about road safety and support those who have experienced the terrible effects, and the team is keen to hear from anyone affected.

RESCUE supports and comforts those whose lives have been affected by road traffic collisions, whether through injury or loss of a loved one.

With a personal understanding of how difficult collisions can be, no matter how serious, RESCUE has all the connections and information needed to assist victims.

Chairman Simon Hart said: "This is the launch event for RESCUE. We have representatives from the emergency services and victims themselves and we want to share the facts about real life incidents.

"If it makes one person think about the way they drive then it has been a success.

"We want to raise awareness and we want people to come forward who have witnessed, been involved or been linked in anyway to a road collision."

If you are interested in sponsoring RESCUE or would like help from the team then email rescue.dorset@hotmail.co.uk.

Pauline throws diet out of the window for fundraiser

FRIENDS and colleagues of Community Development Worker Pauline Trimming didn't need to go to Wimbledon to enjoy summer sunshine and strawberries this week.

To raise money for Breast Cancer Care UK, Pauline held a "throw your diet out the window" Strawberry Cream Tea Party at the Dorset Community Action offices in Dorchester.

Those who turned up to support the cause indulged in scones with clotted cream and strawberry jam, mouth-watering strawberry cakes and a refreshing cup of tea or coffee.

A strawberry raffle and cunningly devised strawberry quiz helped to swell the coffers for a wonderful cause which touches many people.

And the prize for the quiz? Yet more cream teas to be enjoyed courtesy of the Old Tea Rooms at Moreton, which may need to be followed by a brisk walk in the countryside to walk off all the calories.

Mencap campaigns for equal rights in healthcare

THIS week Mencap launched its Getting it right campaign to ensure that people with a learning disability get the level of healthcare they have a right to.

Getting it right is the focus of Mencap's Learning Disability Week 2010 and calls on health professionals to commit to a charter that will help make real changes and save lives. Mencap's Death by indifference report (2007) identified six cases where indifference and a lack of understanding among doctors and nurses had tragic consequences. From talking to families and individuals, it became clear that these were not isolated cases, but a sign of a wider problem.

Mencap is now providing health professionals with practical guidance to help them understand the health needs of people with a learning disability, to ensure they get fair and equal treatment.

Carol Burgess, Mencap's Community development officer for Dorset, Bournemouth and Poole said: "Everyone has a right to the best possible healthcare if they fall ill. The fact that this is not always the case for people with a learning disability is totally unacceptable. We want doctors and nurses to sign up to our charter to show their commitment and end discrimination in the NHS."

Mid Dorset Mencap teamed up with residents and staff from Douglas Jackman House, in Dorchester, with an informal drop in session for refreshments and the opportunity to sign the petition.

Carol added: "People were very keen to sign the petition and were shocked to hear that many people with a learning disability do not get equal treatment."

Watching out for whales and dolphins

DOLPHIN and whale watchers are needed to patrol the Dorset coastline this summer.

The marine research charity Sea Watch is seeking nature lovers and local yachtsmen and women who will be willing to spend time watching out from the Dorset coastline during this summer's National Whale and Dolphin Watch (NWDW).

Observers can carry out watches from land or, if they have access to a boat, from sea and no experience is necessary.

Key locations for sightings include Portland Bill, Durlston Head and Poole Bay. All volunteers will be sent information about what to look for and how to record their sightings. If enough people apply there may be opportunities to 'buddy up' with other local enthusiasts.

Harbour porpoises are seen along the county's coast throughout the year, while sightings of bottlenose dolphins peak between September and April.

by Tom Glover

Short-beaked common dolphins can also be spotted off-shore occasionally and the long-finned pilot whale, a deep-water species, are sometimes seen 10km from the coast.

National Whale and Dolphin Watch is being held from August 7th – 15th. Information gathered creates a snapshot of the distribution of dolphins, whales and porpoises – cetaceans – around the coast, feeding into scientific discussions on abundance and distribution.

Sea Watch Sightings Officer Gemma Veneruso said: "We are hoping to recruit people who are willing to commit to spend some time during the watch looking out at locations near where they live. Any time that they can spare would be appreciated. We have some observers who do watches all day everyday and others who do one two hour watch and it is all beneficial.

"They will need binoculars. A compass is useful, but not essential, as is a camera. I will be sending out detailed information to all volunteers about the species they can expect to see locally, how to identify them and the sort of information we need recording.

"Volunteers' sightings will be in addition to public watches which will be held at various points along the coast and will supplement our existing observers and coordinators. We are hoping to build as comprehensive picture as possible of what species are around our coast during that period.

"We would also like to ask any local environmental organisations/centres or commercial boat operators to be involved in the event by doing their own watches."

Sea Watch collects sightings data all year round which helps to feed into discussions to help shape marine conservation policies aimed at protecting the whales, dolphins and porpoises around our coast.

To become an observer, or for more information on Sea Watch's sightings network and other research projects, see www.seawatchfoundation.org.uk.

Anyone interested should contact Gemma at Sea Watch on 01545 561227 or email her at sightings@seawatchfoundation.org.uk.

All monies raised through the campaign help fund Sea Watch research.

Staying fit and healthy

DORSET residents can score top tips for enjoying a healthier lifestyle this summer thanks to a new health and physical activity guide which hit the streets this week.

The 40-page B-Active in Dorset Guide 2010 is crammed full of top tips, events and activities – many of them free or subsidised – kicking off across the county in coming months.

Dorset Physical Activity Alliance co-chairman Dave Franks said: "There is clear evidence that physical activity can boost physical and mental health, but it should also be about having fun and enjoying quality time with friends or family.

"With increased concern nationally about obesity, there's a real challenge to encourage people of all ages to try and change their lifestyle and take up a new fun activity or pastime."

"But getting physical doesn't have to be about taking up competitive sport, it's just as good to go walking along the Jurassic coast or joining a class like Yoga or Pilates.

"Whatever you do, the benefits are huge so I would urge everyone to have a look in the B-Active guide to find something that suits them and just it give it a go!"

With an overall aim to encourage healthier lifestyles, the 2010 guide highlights the NHS' Change 4 Life campaign and its call for people to Eat Well, Move More and Live Longer.

A website - www.b-activeindorset.org - includes other useful advice and explains how people can tackle prevailing life habits and adopt a healthier lifestyle.

The guide is co-ordinated by Dorset Physical Activity Alliance, which is made up of key partners including NHS Dorset, sports providers and local councils including Weymouth and Portland, West Dorset, Purbeck and Dorset county council as well as other partners who are all keen to promote positive life messages.

It will be distributed across libraries, sports and leisure centres, tourist offices and attractions plus other venues county-wide.

GLASS IS SHARP

Whatever happened to Davis Glass & Glazing?

Davis Glass & Glazing was a family run business based in Seaton that specialised in the supply and fitting of all glass types, mirrors, secondary glazing and general glazing supplies. They supplied and fitted glass for domestic, trade and commercial customers. Davis Glass & Glazing was run by Norman Davis and his son, Kevin.

In 2006, Norman, who had been unwell for some time, went into hospital and needed to have a quadruple heart-bypass. He was also diagnosed as having had a couple of minor strokes. By the middle of 2007, Norman & Kevin took the difficult decision to close Davis Glass & Glazing in order for Norman to retire without the temptation of returning to work. Three years later and gladly Norman is still reasonably fit and healthy.

Kevin, on the other hand, has spent three years in the 'wilderness', working for Engineering companies but this year has decided to return to what he knows and enjoys best – glass and glazing. He has now set up Glass is Sharp, providing a very similar service to that offered by Davis Glass & Glazing.

"I can provide the same level of fitting service that was always given by Davis Glass & Glazing" said Kevin, "the only thing being different is that I now do not have a workshop." This has made Glass is Sharp very competitively priced and Kevin's main aims are to provide good quality products, good quality of finish and good value for money.

The most common glazing problem that Glass is Sharp deals with is the replacement of 'blown' double glazed sealed units. Double glazing ages and eventually the seal inside the sealed unit 'breaks down' allowing moist air from the atmosphere to enter inside the cavity. This moist air will then settle on the glass and condensate. "Blown sealed units may not be as big a job as many people think," said Kevin. "We do not need to replace the wooden, PVC or aluminium frames, we only replace the glass. We even replace the glass in Velux roof windows"

Even if there is nothing wrong with your existing double glazed sealed units, Glass is Sharp can replace your units with 'A' rated energy efficient sealed units or something a little more fancy, such as Georgian bars, leaded, stained glass and even decorative PVC panels – giving your property a 'face-lift' without the huge expense of replacement windows and doors.

Other glazing services provided by Glass is Sharp includes the replacement of broken glass, hinges and handles replaced on PVC and aluminium windows, dog and cat flaps fitted, letterboxes replaced, secondary glazing fitted and traditional leaded and stained glass windows made to order and repaired. All of this is available to domestic and trade customers alike.

Norman still has the desire to be part of the Glass is Sharp team and if you are lucky, you may even spot him holding the ladders steady on occasions! You may have to wait a while before Fletcher joins the team! So, Glass is Sharp really is the one thing to remember if you have a glazing problem. It doesn't even cost anything to give them a call.

Altogether Care

Caught up in the everyday hustle and bustle, most of us take life's basics for granted. Little things like nipping out for some teabags, putting on our shoes, personal hygiene etc.

Not everyone has that luxury. Many elderly people and those with learning difficulties, sensory loss, mental health issues or physical disabilities are unable to look after themselves and need help. Not sympathy. Not rigid routine. Not 'taking in hand'. But practical, empathetic, empowering help from qualified individuals who see the people they work with as they really are - individuals with personalities, who have a past, present and most importantly, a future.

Which is where we come in.

No distractions for audience at open-air play

■ EXCISE Men Officer Latimer (Jack Elwin) and Beak (Brian Caddy) plan their attack

THE Distracted Preacher, a romantic comedy about smuggling in rural Dorset, is one of the novels of Thomas Hardy that beautifully illustrates the sense of humour that this great writer did indeed possess.

The New Hardy Players brought this story to life in the Borough Gardens, Dorchester on a sunny summer's evening to a crowd of over 200.

Talented actor, dramatist and musician, Ray Sargent, sadly no longer with us, adapted The Distracted Preacher for the stage.

Equally talented folk musician, performer and storyteller, Tim Laycock, directed this play for the New Hardy Players, turning it into a wonderful production for outdoor locations – and it worked brilliantly.

This intriguing version of The Distracted Preacher led the audience into a world before Dorset became respectable, where the villagers of Nether Moynton were bound by circumstances to defend their sole means of survival – smuggling!

With seagulls circling overhead for added effect, this was the New Hardy Players doing what they do best, bringing Hardy to life in a way we can all comprehend.

Eddie Dale was wonderful as preacher Richard Stockdale, as was Emily Fearn as his romantic interest and smuggling entrepreneur Lizzie Newberry.

Jill Withey and Sophie Wright played the very cleverly devised Conscience and Fiend, wrestling with Stockdale as he found himself torn between his love for Lizzie and his belief that smuggling was a sin.

Everything about The Distracted Preacher was superbly entertaining, bringing the audience into the world of smuggling and its constant battle with the Excise Men. Jack Elwin and Brian Caddy were hilarious as the hapless officers of the law, outwitted at every turn and ending up the losers even when they thought they had won.

Mark Kelly, always a commanding stage presence made the role of Owlett the miller his very own. Dee Thorne as the slightly batty Martha Sarah, Diane Stonham and Ann Gaudin as the village gossips, every member of the cast deserves a mention.

The singing was as good as ever, adding lovely touches as the action moved along.

Jenny Trotman and her fellow musicians John Foxwell and Peter Marshall, who also proved their versatility by taking parts in the play, continued the high standard we have come to expect.

And in another wonderful twist, there was even room for some audience participation. Silhouettes, created by Jan Graham, added another string to the bow, comical but effective, clever yet bizarrely amusing. And much easier than using real horses.

The Distracted Preacher was nothing short of brilliant.

The audience, which included the Mayor of Dorchester Councillor Leslie Phillips and his wife Vonty, were enthralled, the cast magnificent, and the influence of Tim Laycock created a play worthy of Thomas Hardy and a credit to all involved.

Royal Navy presence at Spirit of the Sea festival

HMS KENT TO VISIT PORTLAND

THE Type 23 frigate HMS Kent will make a short visit to Portland from Friday (July 2nd) to provide a Royal Navy focal point for the launch of the Weymouth and Portland 2010 Spirit of the Sea Festival.

The 4900-tonne warship will come alongside Queens Pier at approximately 2pm on Friday for the start of a four-day visit to further foster the long standing and close relationship between Portland and the Royal Navy.

During the visit, locals will get the opportunity to go on board and learn a little more about life in today's Royal Navy during a weekend programme that will see HMS Kent open to the public.

The ship's company will be involved in a packed programme of events while alongside, including playing host to a variety of VIPs, local organisations and young people interested in a career in the Royal Navy, in the form of Budmouth College's Combined Cadet Force.

The ship will also provide an 18-strong marching platoon to take part in the Dorchester Armed Forces Day parade on Saturday, July 3rd. The same day, the ship's commanding officer, Commander Nick Cooke-Priest, will host a luncheon for invited guests and ready his crew to welcome the public on board, from 10am until 4pm.

The ship will also be open to visitors on the Sunday, again from 10am until 4pm.

Commander Cooke-Priest said: "I am delighted to bring HMS Kent into Portland as part of the Spirit of the Seas celebration. My ship's company is thoroughly looking forward to opening up this very capable warship to visitors and I sincerely hope that as many people as possible come to see her over the weekend."

HMS Kent will leave Portland early on Monday, July 5th to return to sea and embark upon operational tasking.

Powerful and versatile with the capability to operate anywhere in the world, the Type 23 frigate is the mainstay of the modern surface fleet.

Originally designed for the principal task of anti-submarine warfare at the height of the Cold War, they have since evolved into multi-purpose ships with the capability to operate in almost any maritime role anywhere in the world. The effectiveness of these ships is further enhanced by their stealth design, which significantly reduces the vessel's radar signature.

The Type 23 or 'Duke' Class frigates are equipped with a variety of weapons systems that allow this class of vessel to engage in a wide range of operations from a full conventional war fighting role to disaster relief and constabulary operations such as anti piracy.

Catering for all interests at the maritime festival

ALL nautical eyes will be focussed on Weymouth and Portland over the next two weeks as the borough stages its 2010 maritime festival - "Spirit of the Sea".

The festival, which starts this weekend, celebrates the area's close relationship with the sea, bringing together a range of sporting activities, cultural events and entertainment.

Headline events for the 2010 festival include:

- ◆ Beach Live on Weymouth seafront (July 3rd-11th)
- ◆ MarineEx 2010, the marine and leisure show (July 3rd/4th)
- ◆ Henri-Lloyd Weymouth Regatta Dinghys (July 3rd/4th)
- ◆ Henri-Lloyd Weymouth Regatta Keelboats (July 9th/11th)
- ◆ Dorset Seafood Festival (July 10th/11th)
- ◆ Weymouth International Maritime Modelling Festival (July 10th/11th).

Running until July 16th, there are more than 50 different events to appeal to all tastes, land-lovers as well as seafarers.

Most have a seafaring theme, but the programme includes events as diverse as power-kiting to playing tag rugby on the beach.

As part of the "Spirit of the Sea" festival, The Purbeck Film Festival is forming an exciting partnership with Nothe Fort in Weymouth to bring the first ever outdoor cinema screening in Weymouth.

"The Spirit of the Sea's" overall objective is to build the brand over the next four years and beyond so that it contributes to a lasting legacy for the Borough from its role as a sailing venue for the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games".

Andrea Etherington, chair of the Purbeck Film Festival, commented: "We are delighted to be taking part in this festival which celebrates the area's close relationship with the sea. Outdoor screenings are a great deal of fun and the atmosphere is always very exciting - we are delighted to be working with Nothe Fort and to be screening in such a wonderful and unique venue.

"As a not-for-profit organisation, one of our prime objectives is to work with the local community to offer a wide range of events and also to support local community initiatives."

The event will take place on Friday, July 9th at 9pm in the atmospheric Parade Ground of the Fort (seating provided). There will be a large cinema screen, with digital surround sound.

Weymouth's famous lifting bridge will also celebrate its 80th anniversary during the festival. Local children have been encouraged to make and send it birthday cards which will be displayed as bunting on the town bridge.

Those submitting the best cards will be given an exclusive tour of the inner workings of the bridge, a round-harbour trip and a buffet lunch.

Lyme Bay Ribs

Most boat owners have long fallen out of love with their craft. Mooring, servicing and insurance can be expensive, while cleaning and maintenance are time-consuming. Fractional ownership of a new boat with Lyme Bay Ribs offers a real alternative to the hassle. Owners purchase a quarter share in the boat of their choice and have use of it every fourth week from their port of choice. All the upkeep and storage of the boat is taken care of, and full RYA and VHF training is provided. The only additional cost above the monthly service charge is for fuel.

After three years the boat is sold and owners typically receive up to 40% of the purchase price back. They can either invest in a new boat, as most do, or walk away. While the calendar dates for each owner are set at the beginning of the year, in practice weeks can be swapped with other users, making the scheme very flexible, particularly for those with second homes. In locations such as Lyme Regis, where moorings are difficult to obtain, the service really comes into its own. As co-founder Jamie McNeil points out 'if you work out the real cost of running a boat - and you value your time - there is no better alternative'.

See you at Marine Ex 2010 at Portland Marina this coming weekend 3rd/4th July.

Featured on these pages are some of the fantastic businesses that Bridport and Westbay have to offer. We are urging you to shop local and shop in Bridport and Westbay. Bridport is a friendly historic market town with national and local shops standing side by side in the main streets. Many local shops are long established family businesses and there are a wide variety of retail, manufacturing and service businesses located on the trading estates around the town. Bridport has a large artistic community and artists can be found working in the many small workshops and studios throughout the town.

Traditional Café at the heart of Bridport that caters for all

Joint business partners TJ and Shirley would like to make everyone in West Dorset aware that they are proud to regard themselves as one of the last standing 'traditional style' cafés in the area.

You can pop into Café Royal in Tannery Road, Bridport for a slap up all day Breakfast or freshly battered cod and chips at any hour of the day and feel completely relaxed, be yourself and watch the world go by.

TJ joined up with Shirley 7 years ago at the helm of the business with a vision to keep the retro feel of the business as close to that you would have experienced in café/diners in the 50's and 60's. They have moved with the times somewhat but feel that with more and more modern, downsized up-market outlets opening in towns all over, it will be a shame to lose the traditional style café altogether.

The many large windows flood plenty of sunlight into this airy, spacious café that boasts additional features in a Juke Box, Pool Table and children's play pen. It is large enough to cater for parties of 30-40 people and often does when coaches stop in the station opposite.

Children's parties have also been held at Café Royal as they love the kid's meals for £2 and there is a large penny sweet counter that the kids are very fond of.

For more information call TJ or Shirley on 01308 422012 or just pop by to enjoy the relaxed atmosphere at the café Royal.

Experience Poundbury

Poundbury is the urban extension to Dorchester in Dorset, and is famous internationally as a pioneering example of urban development.

It seeks to implement the principles expounded in The Prince of Wales's 1989 book, 'A Vision of Britain'.

It is the result of The Prince's belief on town-planning coupled with a long period of public consultation between 1988 and 1993. Poundbury is expected to be fully completed by 2025 when it will add approximately 5,000 to the population of Dorchester with 2,000 jobs in the factories, offices and general facilities across the site.

Many people decide to live in Poundbury because of its pioneering principles. At its heart is the importance of pedestrian friendly public space and of integrating employment, private and affordable housing and community facilities. It is intended to be a sustainable development where it is possible to meet a higher proportion of daily needs on foot, rather than relying on the car.

As a mixed-use settlement with factories, offices, shops and facilities are dispersed amongst the residential neighbourhoods. It is therefore possible for some people to live and work in the same community. There are facilities such as restaurants, shops, vets, hairdressers, cafes, pubs, children's nurseries and community facilities close to homes.

BPL solicitors

The Property market remains in a state of flux. Continuing global pressures and internal political and financial restructuring, the death of HIPs, Energy Performance Certificates all mean that home buyers are left wondering what to do!

At bpl we focus almost exclusively on matters relating to property, whether residential or commercial. Our experienced staff are ideally placed to help guide you through the pitfalls and traps that exist in the current market and ensure that your transaction proceeds smoothly and quickly.

Seeking advice early can pay real dividends. In such an uncertain market all parties are keen to secure the transaction as soon as possible whilst wanting to ensure that nothing is missed. By involving your lawyer at the earliest possible opportunity we can help to ensure that this is achieved and that you can complete your transaction with the minimum of fuss.

We offer a range of innovative and competitive fee scales and products to help so give us a call and we will be happy to chat through any queries you may have.

The Octagon Cafe

For a friendly welcome at any time of the day the Octagon Café is the place to go.

One "regular" who stops by four times a year on her way from Devon to the Isle of Wight is always amazed that Jane never forgets the tiniest details.

But most of their customers visit much more frequently to meet friends, enjoy a quiet read and have their coffee made "exactly as they like it". So, whether it's a "regular regular" for Ted, a one-shot decaff latte for Di, or a double espresso with a little jug of hot water on the side – you can be sure that the Octagon's experienced team of barristas will always get yours "just right".

Their popular Daily Specials menu changes with the seasons to make the most of the freshest locally sourced ingredients, and Jason the chef will tailor any dish to your individual requirements – with advance warning he will even try to arrange the daily specials just for you too!

They will also host business breakfasts or evening meetings and their delicious buffet lunches are much in demand by local businesses. Why not drop in and see for yourself?

Spiritual journey ends in Lyme

TALES of apocalyptic global warming dominate headlines; multi-national corporations leak thousands of gallons of oil destroying huge swathes of marine life.

At no time in the last 2,000 years have peoples' awareness of the precarious nature of the planet they inhabit been so pronounced. Even Lyme is not immune with Church Beach and Monmouth Beach named and shamed for their poor water quality in the Marine Conservation Society's Good Beach Guide 2010.

For many people the burden of guilt is transferred and the enormity of the situation overwhelming, but co-founder of the Lyme Regis based Laughing Rainbow Mystery School, Chetna Lawless is using her gifts as a shamanic practitioner to teach people Medicine For The Earth, the art of healing the planet through transmuting personal and environmental

Any town is more than the sum of its parts: people, scenery, proximity to nature, architecture and history all conjure up a sense of place, but for Chetna, having lived in the town for over 20 years, Lyme Regis is all these things and more.

"Dorset is just wonderful, there's an incredibly rich history in this landscape. Walking the cliff paths and fields and surrounding hills, there are just amazing views. If you relax and observe and listen to the sounds, hearing the birds and the sound of leaves and trees, that is nature helping us all the time," said Chetna.

"I love Lyme, the land here is amazingly healing. There's a history of it. People used to come here for hundreds of years for healing."

Having been on a spiritual quest around the world, from Scotland to South East Asia's Buddhist monasteries, Chetna found herself in Dorset on a week-long workshop led by spiritual therapist and healer Golden Cobb.

Chetna says: "When I travelled to England it was for a course Golden Cobb was leading in Dorset; he asked me to quit my job in Japan and work full time with him. I said, 'yes', and we co-founded the Mystery School in Lyme."

Chetna decided to follow her destiny and travel the path of a mystic and shamanic healer when she was 21-years-old, but had been aware of her calling from a very young age.

"My experiences of the invisible realm began as a child, and continued intensifying. The veils between the realms were very thin for me with regular out of body experiences, and visits from my departed grandmother, who also had the gift," said Chetna.

"I knew after graduation that I had to find teachers to help me develop and nurture my gifts in a disciplined way, rather than let them impinge and overlay themselves on to my 'normal' reality. I booked a round-the-world ticket and went in search of my teachers," said the American ex-pat who completed a degree in Industrial and Labour Relations at America's Ivy League Cornell University.

Having worked with and taught mystic and shamanic practices since 1987, shamanism, according to Chetna, is a way of living that requires one to respect, and be in harmony, balance and co-operation with all of creation; it is a way of life that brings healing to ourselves, our friends and families, our communities, and our planet.

Shamanism dates back over 40,000 years and at its core is the understanding that humans are part of a web-of-life that includes all plants, animals, other life forms and nature. The belief all things have a spirit we can interact with, and work with, is fundamental to shamanism.

The modern western resurgence of interest in shamanic practice over the past 40 years is timely, says Chetna, becoming more animated, crumpling the purple throw as she crosses her legs underneath herself. The search for solutions to current environmental challenges finds inspiration and guidance from this ancient tradition.

"We've lost connection with a part of ourselves, and people are longing to get back to that internal harmony. The chaos people feel inside is the chaos they see outside in the world," she said. "When we find harmony and peace within ourselves, we project that to the outside world. This is at the heart of the planetary healing work."

"Shamanism helps people make their own connection with the divine. Once that connection is made a whole new universe opens up to people. It is a path of direct revelation. People experience a divine love that is greater than any human love. To me, brought up Catholic, I call that divine experience God, and my God is formless."

The cornerstone of all shamanic practice is the shamanic journey, during which the practitioner alters their state of consciousness in order to access information and healing from spiritual dimensions, and bring it back to this reality. This is achieved through a process akin to meditation.

Classically shamans achieve their meditative state (the shamanic journey state), through tuning into a percussive beat of a drum or rattle being played at between four and seven beats per second. This changes the brainwaves from Beta, the brain's waking state, or Alpha, the brain's meditative state, to a Theta wave pattern. Delta, the brain's dreaming state, is closest to Thea.

"Plants, trees and nature are in the Theta wave pattern, so being in the shamanic state of consciousness is when we most easily fall in tune with nature. Theta is a deep state in between being awake and asleep – and it is a fully altered state of perception," said Chetna.

Although some people are more pre-disposed to the shamanic way, Chetna says anyone can be taught to journey, "because our brains are hard-wired to do so," adding, "It is also a wonderful alternative to meditation – if you don't get on with traditional meditation, it is another way to practice relaxation and relieve stress."

Apart from the planetary healing work, modern day western shamanic healers practice a whole variety of ancient healing methods – one of them is Soul Retrieval. What psychiatrists may refer to as disassociation, which can happen when a person experiences trauma, loss, or shock, shamans refers to as Soul Loss, which can lead people spending the rest of their life feeling a part of them is missing.

In such situations the shamanic practitioner can work with spirit guides to track down the soul parts that have been lost (or disassociated) and exist somewhere in the field of consciousness, and return it to the person. What present day psychology describes as the field of consciousness, shamans call the web-of-life.

"This kind of shamanic healing is another example of the support and co-operation that exists between the spiritual dimensions, and between us humans and the spirits of nature, which is why the respectful and loving treatment of the environment is of utmost importance to a shamanic practitioner," says Chetna.

"The plants, animals and trees are connected in the web-of-life. We depend on nature for everything, on all the elements to live: the food we eat, the water we drink; everything is connected and interdependent. In science we call it ecology. In shamanism we see it as a spiritual reality. It is vital to our survival for us to respect and honour everything in that web."

People are waking up to the damage they are creating in the world, through their thoughts as well as their actions, says Chetna, and people are realising they don't want to be part of the problem anymore; they want to be part of the solution.

"I have witnessed many people reconnecting and developing a greater love and appreciation for the place where they live – and this has led them to taking greater care of it."

Chetna added: "The challenges we are facing today demand new and creative ideas. When it comes to healing the planet, there's not one answer, but many answers that lay in each one of us. We each hold pieces of the jigsaw. The idea is to come together as a community and share our ideas in order to create a new reality – to dream into being a better experience for our planet. That visionary power is within each of us. As a shamanic practitioner, I help people to experience that."

SUPPORTED BY
Dorchester BID

I should "pick" a fishy for my little dishy...

Billy the fish has been established in Dorchester for some time now and the people of the area have recognised his business as two sections, a Fish Monger on one side and quirky Sea Food restaurant on the other.

Recently Billy the Proprietor decided to combine the two and incorporate a significant fresh fish counter into the restaurant layout, giving his customers the chance to visually select their choice of fish and sit by and watch as it is prepared and cooked to their liking.

For example, why not pick and mix a fresh fish platter made up of prawns, scallops, calamari and lobster to be freshly prepared and served for a group of you to share.

You do not have to eat your pickings in the restaurant, the fresh fish counter operates as any other fish monger does and gives it's customers the opportunity to buy 'fruites de mer' over the counter and do the cooking bit at home or on the bbq.

The restaurant that Billy created now seats 36 and more if the venue is booked for private buffet parties. The business also has been known to cater for wedding parties, birthdays (with karaoke) and also special cook nights where you can (in small groups at a time) actually go into the kitchen and take part in the process of filleting and cooking the fish.

There are lunch and evening menus containing all fresh locally caught fish, meat and vegetarian options, vegetables which come, in particular, from Billy's father's allotment which adds to the friendly local feel of the business.

Lunch is served daily from 11-4pm and evening dinner from Thursday to Saturday from 7pm-late but Billy would like to make it clear that if you wish to book a table for an evening that is not advertised as open, the team will gladly open the restaurant to meet your needs. ## Healthy Vitali-tea at Char-Chars!

TEA has been drunk in China for almost 5,000 years and has always been recognised for it's innumerable health benefits. Indeed, when tea was first brought to Britain, it was sold by Apothecaries as a health tonic! Now we have a growing mass of scientific research to back up these claims.

At Char-Chars you'll find a wide range of teas selected for their flavour and for the positive impact they have on you. "We are all becoming increasingly aware of how good the polyphenols in Green Teas and White Teas are, but there are many more varieties of tea and infusions with recognised health benefits" says Owner, Sonja Morgan. "For example, Oolong teas are said to aid weight loss, Olive Leaf Tea contains oleuropein which helps ward off viruses as well as boosting energy, and research shows even our normal breakfast cuppa can help prevent tooth decay and lower cholesterol!"

So when you're in need of refreshment on a hot day, it's worth remembering that researchers say drinking three or more cups of tea a day is as good for you as drinking plenty of water. It not only re-hydrates as well as water does, but it can also protect against heart disease and some cancers, and act as an arthritis soother!

All in all you'll be pushed to find a healthier drink than tea, and what better excuse do you need to drop into Char-Chars this summer and try some of the best loose leaf teas in Dorchester!

A new word in style for county town

A shop that mixes the work of Dorset designers with internationally famous names is the latest addition to Dorchester's buoyant retail scene.

Eureka is the second retail venture by entrepreneur Tim Altham, whose business until now has been in supplying quality retailers with stylish stationery and fashion accessories. The first Eureka store opened in September 2009 in Swanage.

Products at the Dorchester store include stationery and accessories from Designers Guild, beauty products from Drenched and Glamourflage in Australia, TOKYObay watches from San Francisco, stationery and ceramics from Cath Kidston and Nora Jewellery from Norway (exclusive to Eureka).

Designers from Dorset are responsible for the shop's lively spread of greeting cards and wrappings, as well as the range of contemporary eco bags which, says Tim, are leading the field in colour and design.

He said: "We have produced the most ethical range of eco bags on the market. The content is entirely recycled, from old plastic bottles, and no one else is doing that with folding eco bags."

Eureka, Tim says, sets out to offer "an infusion of colour and design, across a whole range of products - as many as possible from Dorset designers."

"We want to support local artists and designers, and we are always happy to talk to them about their ideas."

Great food to eat in or takeaway!

The Horse with the Red Umbrella is located opposite the Dorset County Museum it has a well-coming ambience and serves fantastic homemade cakes, a large selection of sandwiches and also a large selection of hot and cold beverages which can be enjoyed either sat in or to take away. ## Tea and history anyone?

The Duke of Monmouth landed at Lyme Regis on the 11th June 1685 to challenge King James' claim to the throne, following the death of Charles II. He assembled an army in excess of 3,000 men and marched to Sedgemoor in Somerset.

He was defeated by the King's army in less than a month. Around 1300 were taken prisoner. Five Judges came to Dorchester with the infamous Judge Jeffreys, whose reputation was that of the 'hanging judge'.

In September 1685, 312 cases were heard in the Oakroom at the rear of the Antelope Hotel; of these 292 were sentenced to death. Only 74 were executed, with 175 transported, 9 were fined or whipped and 54 were discharged.

Judge Jeffreys - having his eye on promotion - was later made Lord Chancellor.

When King James fell and William of Orange landed in Torbay, Jeffreys was captured and imprisoned in the Tower of London. He died in 1689 while awaiting trial, probably of natural causes.

Rumours at the time said he has been poisoned while in the Tower and that his body had been returned to Dorchester and walled up in the Courtroom - now the Oakroom.

This 17th Century Oak panelled room has been carefully restored to maintain its character and original features.

Today it is called The Oakroom and is a delightful tearoom, with a peaceful, tranquil atmosphere, replicating the style and service of a Lyons Corner House. The Oakroom of today serves a variety of light meals throughout the day and service is a high priority. The staff at the Oakroom pride themselves on their high levels of customer service, creating a warm, homely atmosphere where you can enjoy lovely lunches and of course, Dorset clotted cream teas.

Macca soothes World Cup heartbreak in Hyde Park

COME quarter-to-eight on Sunday night, the crowd in London's Hyde Park was ready to party. It had been the hottest day of the year so far, feet were aching - with the audience having been standing for hours already - and the more sane may well have swapped their place in front of the stage for a cold drink and a comfy chair.

But no matter. The atmosphere was electric and the anticipation had reached fever pitch. For the next two-and-three-quarters-of-an-hour we were to be in the presence of a true legend. A man whose only worry before a show isn't which songs to play but which ones to leave out. Paul McCartney.

The crowd were ready to have the memories of that afternoon's football match exorcised from their minds. And by the time the whole of Hyde Park was singing along to 'All My Loving', England's World Cup defeat was all but a distant memory.

Now only two years short of 70, you have to wonder how long Sir Paul can keep on going like this. But he has the voice and energy of a man in his early 50s, and seems to be having so much fun you can't see him ever wanting to pack it in.

He bounds around the stage, interchanging between playing bass, piano and guitar, fitting in the odd anecdote in-between the songs that make up the massive set, nearly 40 tunes strong.

The set list had something for everyone, from lesser known Wings tunes like 'Letting Go' and 'Nineteen Hundred And Eighty-Five', to newer songs from Macca side-project The Fireman and - of course - those massive Beatles hits.

The intros to song after song make the hairs on the back of your neck stand up, with even previously derided songs like the (relatively) recent single 'Dance Tonight' and the cod-reggae of 'Ob-La-Di, Ob-La-Da' instigating great reactions from the crowd.

The show began with the rather apt Wings number 'Venus & Mars' - with its lyrics about the crowd "waiting for the show to begin" - and it was McCartney's Seventies band that dominated the beginning of the set.

The final song of Macca's opening stint behind the piano saw the first of the evening's tributes. 'My Love' is probably the best love song he penned for first wife Linda, and he dedicates it - as you'd expect - to the lovers in the audience.

Later on in the show, Paul pays tribute to George Harrison by playing his song 'Something' on ukulele accompanied by a moving black & white photo montage of his old mate, whilst he looks visibly moved when performing 'Here Today', his ode to John Lennon. But perhaps the best tribute to John was the burst of 'Give Peace A Chance' which followed the iconic 'A Day In The Life'.

Other highlights included a storming 'Live And Let Die' (accompanied by a firework display that had to be seen to be believed), a beautiful Beatles era acoustic set (featuring album tracks 'I'm Looking Through You', 'Two Of Us' and 'Blackbird') and - of course - the obligatory mass sing-a-long to 'Hey Jude'.

The audience couldn't believe its luck when Macca and his band returned for not one but two three-song encores. Rounding things off with non-stop Beatles classics, McCartney proved how diverse his songwriting talents are by playing the delicate standard 'Yesterday' one moment before launching into 'Helter Skelter', which virtually invented hard rock by itself, the next.

By the time the reprise version of 'Sgt Pepper' had segued into Abbey Road's 'The End' we knew the party was over. And the 50,000 strong crowd roared its approval, hoping that this wouldn't be the last time they'd spend an evening in the company of Sir Paul.

● Set List: Venus & Mars - Rock Show / Jet / All My Loving / Got To Get You Into My Life / Highway (The Fireman) / Let Me Roll It - Foxy Lady / Tequila / The Long And Winding Road / Nineteen Hundred And Eighty Five / Let 'Em In / My Love / I'm Looking Through You / Two Of Us / Blackbird / Here Today / Dance Tonight / Eleanor Rigby / Ram On / Something / Sing The Changes (The Fireman) / Band On The Run / Ob-La-Di, Ob-La-Da / Back In The U.S.S.R. / I've Got A Feeling / Paperback Writer / A Day In The Life - Give Peace A Chance / Let It Be / Live And Let Die / Hey Jude // first encore - Day Tripper / Lady Madonna / Get Back // second encore - Yesterday / Helter Skelter / Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band (reprise) - The End

Lyme Jazz Festival anniversary celebrations with Kenny Ball

JAZZ sensation Kenny Ball is just one of the acts to feature in the 20th anniversary of Lyme Regis Jazz Festival, to be celebrated this weekend.

The event will also be special for Kenny and his Jazzmen, as they are enjoying their 50th year in music since first hitting the charts with 'Samantha'.

The festival will be officially opened by the Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Michaela Ellis, on Friday (July 2nd) at 4pm at Cobb Gate, where Gerry Hall & the Mission Hall Jazz Band will entertain.

Various bands, including the Woodroffe School Jazz band and the Louisiana Joy-makers, will then play for the rest of the evening at the festival's main venues, the Marine Theatre, Royal Lion Hotel, Masonic Hall and Pilot Boat Inn.

Kenny Ball will star at the Marine Theatre from 8.30pm to 11.30pm.

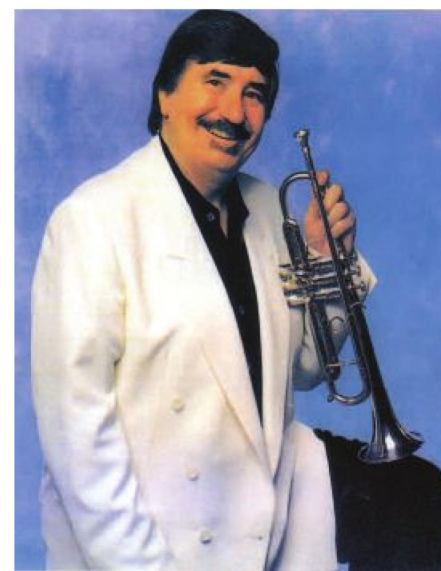

Celebrations on Saturday will kick off with the annual decorated umbrella parade from the Regent Cinema at 10.30am to the Cobb.

The procession will be led by lady marshal Val Chambers, town crier Phil Street and the Louisiana Parade Band. All are invited to join in with their decorated umbrellas and prizes will be given to the best entries.

Saturday's music will include a swing tea dance with the Salisbury Big Band from 4pm to 6.30pm, and Ian Bateman with the Bone Supremacy from 8.30pm to 11.30pm - both at the Marine Theatre.

Gerry Brown & the Mission Hall Band will entertain again in a 20th anniversary concert with special guest Tony Carter from 8pm to 11pm at the Marine Theatre on Sunday night. Other music on Sunday will include the Excelsior Vintage Jazz Band and Tiger Tim's Hot Four.

Full details of the Jazz Festival are listed in the official souvenir programme, available for £1.50 from the Tourist Information Centre and various outlets around town. Single event, day and whole weekend tickets are also available from the TIC.

Trilby-topped ska stars for Palace show

LOS ALBERTOS are a six-piece ensemble of trilby adorned ska-dance protagonists who've been transmitting their hi-energy melodies to the nation since their formation in 2002.

Christened by the barmaid at their debut gig, their fistful of grinning 2-tone skank with a twist of Santana has drawn attention from far beyond the pebbled beaches of their hometown Brighton, leading to regular appearances at Glastonbury and Beautiful Days festivals.

With international critical acclaim, such as a five star review from Live Review ('If you like ska, you'll love Los Albertos. If you don't like ska, you'll still love Los Albertos') you can see them live at Bridport's own top music venue the Electric Palace on Friday, July 2nd. Tickets are on sale now for £12 from Bridport TIC 01308 424901 and Bridport Music 01308 425707. Support for the show comes from top local group Papa Le Gal.

REUNITED PROG-ROCK PIONEERS FOR SPECIAL BRIDPORT SHOW

THE pioneering British progressive rock group Curved Air has reunited and after a performance at Glastonbury this year, will be playing Bridport on 4th July at the Electric Palace.

The line-up features the stunning Sonja Kristina, voted top British Female Vocalist of the 70's, teaming up again with other founding members Darryl Way and Florian Pilkington Miksa. The band will be performing all their well known tracks including 'Air Conditioning' as well as their top five hit 'Back Street Luv'.

Curved Air caused a sensation when they formed in the UK in 1970. The band were famed for its blend of poignant, evocative lyrics and instrumental pyrotechnics and was renowned for the showmanship of its individual musicians. The release of their first album was a monumental recording that was issued as rock & roll's first-ever picture disc and launched the band to the edge of superstardom.

"I'm very excited to be performing again with Sonja and Florian and looking forward to meeting faithful fans and maybe creating some new ones along the way," Darryl Way said in a statement. "Curved Air was very much at the cutting edge of new technologies with its use of synths and sequencers. Since that time, music technology has developed in almost unimaginable ways; it should be really exciting and great fun to come back after all these years and have so many new toys to play with."

Three of the band's albums were in the top 20 in the 1970s, and a new Curved Air album, produced by Way, will be released in June with fresh recordings of classic and new tracks. Catch this iconic band in Bridport, tickets are on sale now, special advance offer of 2 tickets for £20, £12 each or £15 on door, available from Bridport TIC or Bridport Music.

Poetry for Pleasure

by Frank McGarry

WHEN a close friend suffers a personal loss, such as the death of a family member, it is very difficult to know what to do or say. Typically, we are overcome by frustrated feelings of inadequacy and helplessness. Rita Kluwe offers this advice.

Friendship

Don't tell me time heals
I don't need to be told.
Don't say that you understand
Even if you do.
Don't tell me I should
I already know.
Don't tell me I shouldn't
It is up to me.
Don't say you will
If you don't mean it.
Don't avoid me
It isn't catching.
Don't leave me alone
I value your friendship.
Please be around
While I need you.

I don't know if Derek Dobson had counselling from Rita Kluwe but he seems to know what to do.

I'm Here For You

I do not know the pain that you are going through
- yet I will stay here and share it with you.
I cannot understand the emptiness that is within you
- yet I will sit here and listen to you.
I may never suffer what you are feeling now
- yet I will hold your hand and feel for you.
I am not able to take away your loss today
- yet I will give whatever I have to you.
I may not have the power to bring back your loved one
- but I will always be here for you.

It goes without saying that loss of a loved one can inspire beautiful poetry. To end our column for this week here are two examples: the first written by Alfred Lord Tennyson and the second from the American, James Whitcomb Riley.

Break, break, break.

On the cold gray stones, O Sea!
And I would that my tongue could utter
The thoughts that arise in me.

O well for the fisherman's boy,
That he shouts with his sister at play!
O well for the sailor lad,

That he sings in his boat on the bay!

And the stately ships go on
To their haven under the hill;
But O for the touch of a vanished hand,
And the sound of a voice that is still!

At the foot of thy crags, O Sea!
But the tender grace of a day that is dead
Will never come back to me.

He is not Dead

I cannot say, and I will not say
That he is dead. He is just away.
With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there.
And you—oh, you, who the wildest yearn
For an old-time step, and the glad return,
Think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here.
Think of him still as the same. I say,
He is not dead—he is just away.

Weymouth and Portland embrace the 'Spirit of the Sea' for Maritime Festival

EVENTS for this year's 'Spirit of the Sea - Weymouth & Portland Maritime Festival' are now well underway and the organisers are especially pleased that the Royal Navy is bringing HMS Kent to Portland Port. It will be available to visitors for tours only from MarineEx which is being held this year at Osprey Quay on Saturday 3rd and Sunday 4th July. An extra bonus sees the Band of the Royal Marines 'Beating The Retreat' at the end of both days of MarineEx. A RN jazz quartet will provide further entertainment for visitors.

For the second year The Environment Agency is backing the taster sessions for water sports. The sports comprise sailing, windsurfing, sea kayaking, kitesurfing, paddleboarding, diving, snorkelling and fishing. Check out the website for details of the 'Blue Gym Watersports Taster sessions', spaces are limited so book your place early if you fancy having a go at one of the watersports advertised.

Once again there will have two competitions available on the 'Spirit' website. Haven Holidays are generously providing a holiday prize at one of their well-known UK parks and a photographic competition will again be held with some great prizes organized by the Chesil Beach Centre.

On the cultural front there are two events not to be missed, 'A Rat's Tale' - which sounds as if it is going to be hilarious and the Purbeck Film Festival Outdoor Screening at the Nothe of 'Master and Commander' which is a first for Weymouth and the Nothe.

Copies of the 'Spirit 210' programme are available FREE of charge from Weymouth, Portland, Dorchester Tourist Information Centres and the Brewers Quay Timewalk Reception.

Corden's golden handcuffs ITV deal

ITV is keen to lure Bafta-winning actor James Corden with a golden handcuffs deal worth £6million, according to reports. Following the success of his World Cup Live show, the channel is keen to turn James into the channel's new "golden boy" with a deal for a primetime chat show and comedy series.

If he accepts, James will become the channel's third biggest signing, behind Simon Cowell and Ant and Dec. But sources say James, who is also in talks with the BBC, will only switch if he is offered more than Adrian Chiles.

An insider said: "James' football show was a roaring success. ITV are desperate to get him on an exclusive deal. But he's a canny businessman and will only accept if it's worth more than Chiles' £6million over four years."

GABY Roslin could be joining her former Big Breakfast buddy Chris Evans as the new weekday anchor on The One Show. Chris admitted he'd be thrilled to work with Gaby again, saying: "She's as mad as a box of frogs and she looks incredible. Of course I would do it." A BBC spokeswoman said: "Nothing has been confirmed."

COULD Gary Barlow be the man to take Simon Cowell's place on the Britain's Got Talent judging panel, should the music mogul quit? Britain's Got More Talent host Stephen Mulhern certainly thinks so.

Stephen reckons Gary would be "brilliant" in the role. He told The Sun: "He was a mentor on The X Factor and you could tell he cares and I think that's really important. He would be constructive. He's been there, he's done it, so he would bring a different side to things."

Simon has already vowed to miss the audition stage of next year's series as he focuses on launching the US version of The X Factor. But rumours that Piers is in line to front a US chat show means the line up could change completely.

Stephen added: "If Simon leaves they need to pick the replacement very carefully. If Piers goes as well it's a real shame. They have got it so right and the balance is good."

JONATHAN Ross is planning to go out with a bang, booking David Beckham as the last ever guest on his BBC chat show. Actor Jackie Chan and Mickey Rourke, and singers Prince and Tom Jones will also appear on the show, due to air on Friday, July 16th.

Hair raising experience in Dorchester Museum

WHAT is hair made from? What lives in it? What would you look like with a beard?

All these questions and more are answered in a new family friendly hands-on exhibition of the history and science of human hair opening at Dorset County Museum on Saturday July 3rd.

Visitors to the exhibition will discover a room full of giant hair products containing the story of hair and the things that we do to it. Find out how shampoo and conditioner work, learn about the structure of hair and why it goes grey with age. Learn how to plait hair in different styles with our interactive models and see what you would look like with different beards and moustaches.

The centrepiece of the exhibition is a giant hair louse which dominates the room and gives visitors the opportunity to learn about this blood-sucking parasite and how to avoid it!

The exhibition examines hairdressing from the Roman period through to the elaborate wigs of the 17th century and the amazing moustaches of the Victorian period to the varied hairstyles of today. Visitors can test their knowledge with our Barber's pole timeline.

The oldest objects in the exhibition are Roman combs and hairpins found in archaeological excavations in Hampshire. During your journey through the history of hair, you will encounter amazing hair perming machines from the 1930s that look like giant metallic squids, Chinese dolls with elaborate hairstyles and beautiful tiaras.

So, whether you're in the first downy stages, have a full head of hair or are thinning on top – this exhibition is for you!

The exhibition runs until Saturday, October 2nd. For more information please Tel: 01305 262735

Will it be happily ever after for Shrek in the final film?

THE much-anticipated final film in the popular Shrek series will be released this Friday, with all your favourite characters returning plus a few new faces.

"Shrek Forever After" follows our favourite green man as he becomes overwhelmed by his new celebrity status as Princess Fiona's husband. Shrek wishes he could just be a normal ogre again, but in a fairytale you have to be careful what you wish for.

After an encounter with the evil Rumpelstiltskin, Shrek is sent back to his old lifestyle in return for one day of his childhood. Back to being a normal ogre, Shrek soon realises none of his pals recognise him and Rumpelstiltskin later reveals that the day of childhood he took was the day Shrek was born... everything has changed!

After gaining the trust of Donkey and (a rather chubbier) Puss, the ogre sets out to make Princess Fiona fall in love with him all over again, but will he get True Love's First Kiss in time to save the day?

Released Friday, June 2nd

FOURTH TIME LUCKY | Shrek Forever After sees a return to form after the poorly received third installment ROMANTIC comedy "When In Rome" stars Kristen Bell from top comedies "Forgetting Sarah Marshall" and "Couples Retreat", and Josh Duhamel of "Transformers" fame.

Successful art curator Beth (Bell) has convinced herself she doesn't need love when she flies to Rome to attend her little sister's wedding. There she meets Nicholas (Duhamel) and the pair hit it off.

Just when Beth is ready to give love another chance, she catches Nicholas kissing another woman and, while a little drunk, she takes coins from the fountain of love.

When Nicholas begins to fall in love with her, Beth is convinced he's under the fountain's spell and doesn't have true feeling for her, so she sets out on a quest to return the coins she took.

Blame it on the weather man

BILL Giles, the weather man, is bringing his one-man Bill Giles' Weather Show to the Marine Theatre in Lyme Regis on Saturday, July 17th.

Bill Giles' Weather Show offers a humorous outlook from the man who led the BBC Weather Team for 17 years, answering questions as diverse as how Michael Fish missed the Hurricane in 1987, why Ian McCaskill broadcast without his shoes on and whether global warming will affect you.

During the evening, Bill promises to cover all weather phenomena, including rainbows, lightning, thunder, waterspouts, tornadoes and hurricanes. He will decipher Met Office jargon, explore climate change and discuss the effect of greenhouse gases, predict the weather for the next fifty to 100 years. The show will also unveil Bill's journey from his RAF days observing the H-Bomb tests in the South Pacific through to his role as Head of the BBC Weather Centre. Bill's weather tales will be liberally splashed with anecdotes about his fellow presenters, and offers a generous helping of bloomers at BBC Television Centre.

Bill Giles was awarded the OBE in 1995 for services to weather broadcasting, and was one of the first people to warn about Global Warming, nearly 20 years ago. Many of his theories from that period are now fully accepted by scientists and politicians alike.

Bill Giles will be performing at the Marine Theatre at 8pm on Saturday, July 17th. Tickets cost £14 in advance, from Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre on 01297 442138, online at www.marinetheatre.org.uk or on the door.

Aston Martin DB9: the definitive sports Grand Tourer

IN THE most significant programme of upgrades since its world debut in 2003, Aston Martin's DB9 range has received a complete package of styling, engineering and equipment enhancements.

As the most successful Aston Martin of all time (an honour it shares with the V8 Vantage) the DB9 has established itself as the definitive grand tourer, thanks to an enduring combination of understated elegance, sporting character and genuine luxury.

For Dr Ulrich Bez, Aston Martin's Chief Executive, the DB9 remains a very special car: "The DB9 is the quintessential sporting grand tourer and offers an unrivalled combination of driver involvement, character, luxury and refinement. This car combines our unique Aston Martin character with an uncompromised design philosophy, craftsmanship and trademark Aston Martin performance ability."

This new package of improvements complements these core qualities perfectly. Subtle styling changes freshen the DB9's appearance, with a new front bumper, bright finish radiator grille and a re-shaped lower intake featuring bright hexagonal mesh. New headlight bezels, re-styled sills, silver brake calipers, 20-spoke diamond turned alloy wheels and clear rear light lenses complete the external revisions.

Under the skin the DB9's passive damping system has been replaced by a new Adaptive Damping System (ADS), which offers enhanced ride comfort together with sharper handling when switched to Sport mode. The ADS system is offered as standard equipment across the DB9 range, encompassing both Coupe and Volante (convertible). A new tyre pressure monitoring system, a revised Bluetooth microphone system and the addition of a new Double Apex alloy finish trim and Bang & Olufsen hi-fi options broaden the DB9's specification.

Aston Martin's Product Development Director, Ian Minards, explains that it is all part of an ongoing commitment to continual improvement: "The DB9 was the first car built at Gaydon adopting the VH architecture. It has evolved every year since, with significant changes including a power upgrade and successive reductions in CO2 emissions. The latest package of improvements goes further than ever, highlighting the DB9's qualities as a true sporting GT and underlining its role as the backbone car of our range."

The Aston Martin DB9 is available as either Coupe or Volante (convertible) with rear mid-mounted six-speed manual gearbox as standard or optional 'Touchtronic 2' six-speed automatic transmission. Production of the revised DB9 is already underway, with deliveries commencing in July. Prices start from £122,445 for the DB9 Coupe and £131,445 for the DB9 Volante.

New government statistics show motorcycle safety improving

NEW statistics released by the Government show that as the number of motorcycle miles travelled has increased the number of casualties and fatalities has actually fallen, indicating that more miles travelled does not mean more accidents.

This has been the ongoing trend since around 2002, when the link was broken between the year on year number of motorcycles in use compared to the number of casualties per annum.

The figures show that motorcycle traffic rose by 2 per cent but the number of motorcycle casualties was 4 per cent lower than in 2008. The number reported as seriously injured fell by 4 per cent to 5,350 and there were 472 motorcycle user fatalities in 2009, which was also 4 per cent lower than during 2008.

Improving motorcycle safety has always been an important part of the industry's agenda and the MCI works closely with the Government and other relevant bodies in the motorcycle community to find ways to improve safety in a number of ways.

The Police BikeSafe scheme; intelligent enforcement, engineering improvements and the commitment from trainers to improving standards, have all contributed to a safer motorcycling environment

Steve Kenward, CEO of the MCI, said, "Although there is still a strong concern about the number of motorcycle casualties, the fact remains that year after year motorcycling continues to get safer in terms of the likelihood of having an accident.

"The reported fall in motorcycle fatalities during 2009 is welcome, but we can not be complacent about this - there are simply far too many people dying in accidents - and we still have much more work to do."

Lyme Regis Golf club

Juniors take centre stage in sun-drenched conditions

AFTER another two weeks of incredible weather and resulting course conditions which could only be conducive to good golf, it is hardly surprising that some individual and team scores in events hosted by and participated in by teams and Lyme Regis players were outstanding to say the least.

In particular the Junior section of the club staged some successful internal events which featured some excellent individual performances whilst they also had success in inter club events as well.

Junior Club Championships
Whilst the "roll of honour" featured some familiar names, it was also good to see that some of the up and coming players have now begun to fulfil their promise.

Of particular note are the brother and sister duo of Danny and Georgie Searle who gained first place in two events. Danny gaining first place in the handicap competition whilst his sister Georgie was the leading girl in the competition.

In the scratch competition George Seed carded an outstanding 81 closely followed by David Lyons with an impressive 84.

◆ Danny and Georgie Searle

This meant that George achieved second place in the handicap event with Danny in fourth place. In the under 14s event, played over six holes, Macawley Vincent gained first place whilst Lewis Gibbons achieved victory in the under 12 category.

The under 10 competition was also a fiercely contested event which Thomas the son of club pro Duncan, Driver achieve first place.

Dorset Junior knockout competition

Having beaten Dudsbury in the second round, the Lyme Junior Team were drawn against Weymouth in the third round of the Dorset League knockout competition.

It was always expected that this would prove to be a tough round. However, team spirit and some fine individual performances saw Lyme produce an outstanding victory in the home and away two leg competition.

In the away leg the Lyme Team of Richie Yorke, John Bugg, David Lyons, George Yorke, Kai To Li and Danny Searle were narrowly beaten by 31/2 to 21/2.

However, in the second round, the Lyme team made full use of the home advantage to run out winners by 4 to 2 to secure overall victory by 61/2 to 51/2.

They now wait to hear who they will play in the quarter final.

Meanwhile, in the Daily Mail National competition, the Lyme Regis pairing of Scott Love (1) and Johnny Ebdon (8) played a very steady round of golf to convincingly defeat their Taunton and Pickering opponents by 7& 5 to win through to the 6th round of the competition.

Seniors Golf

At the other end of the generation spectrum the Seniors section of the club has not only staged two successful internal competitions but has also "notched up" some notable interclub successes.

In the recent Seniors Stableford competition ever improving John Coley secured a victory with 40 points on count back over Malcolm Hinxman.

The Seniors Medal competition

◆ David Lyon and Kai To Li

which, by its very nature is not always popular with the more mature golfer, saw a reduced field struggle to card a respectable score.

However, newcomer to the club, Peter Cogan playing off a handicap of eleven, carded an exceptional score of net 69 to win the event overall, albeit on countback, to win the event overall.

In inter club events the Senior section scored some notable victories also not the least of which was in the quarter final of the Knighton Heath knockout competition.

The first team of Roger Driver, Julian Cox, Mike Warren, Steve Philips, Malcolm Wilson, Peter Mayles, Geoff Richmond, Graham Langford, Peter Lock, and Mike Hankey secured an outstanding victory against Hockley Golf Club by 6-4.

Also of note is the fact that Julian Cox achieved his fifth ever hole in one in a recent inter-club match against Woodbury Park Golf Club.

Lyme Regis Bowls

53rd annual tournament is a sun-kissed success

with Paul Moffitt

ANOTHER Lyme Regis Bowls Club tournament has come and gone, competitors experiencing some of the best weather and conditions for years.

The men's competitions were nearly an all Lyme affair, with only Harry Black, pairing up with Mike Knight of Lyme, representing another club.

There were some familiar faces in the finals, invariably going on to take the title, Mike Preston;

the Pomeroy's; Ros Constant

& Morag Daly to name a few.

Results:

Mens Singles: Mike Preston, Lyme Regis, 21; Roger Wolland, Seaton, 4.

Ladies Singles: Ros Constant, Bristol City, 21; Morag Daly, Bristol Kingswood, 17.

Open Pairs: Harry Black & Mike Knight 18; Steve Pomeroy & Paul Pomeroy 12.

Open Triples: Dennis Pomeroy, Steve Pomeroy & Paul Pomeroy 16; George Doig, Simon Doig, Carl Stephens 6.

Football partnership brings summer soccer opportunities

THE Bridport and District Community Football Partnership (BFP) have announced their summer soccer programme which will provide opportunities for local sportsmen to gain coaching qualifications and young footballers to improve their soccer skills.

The Partnership who were responsible for delivering the new changing room complex at St Mary's Playing Fields are now concentrating their efforts on improving opportunities for local people to become involved in football.

A DCFA Level 1 coaching course commences on Wednesday, June 30th and will provide the students with a mix of theory and practical training over five sessions covering issues such as child protection, injury identification, emergency aid, plus advice on how to stage mini soccer schools, and set up small sided games and coaching drills.

The BFP are subsidising the cost of the course and hope that this will be the start of a regular programme of events based at Bridport Football Club's new facilities.

The DCFA have also agreed to provide a one day course for 5-11 year olds at St Mary's Fields on Wed August 18th. Running from 10am - 2pm the DCFA skills team will provide an opportunity for budding stars of the future to enjoy a day's coaching. More details of this great opportunity for local youngsters will be published later.

The BFP will also be running their successful evening coaching course for 8-15 year olds on Monday evenings during the school summer holidays. Starting on Monday, July 26th at 6.30 pm and running for five weeks youngsters are invited to come along free of charge to learn new skills and techniques and to prepare them for the new season. Anyone interested in attending is asked to contact either Geoff Joy (01308 425495) or Mike Thompson (01308 424932) to register their interest.

Geoff Joy, Chairman of the BFP said: "The Partnership was set up to improve the opportunities for local people to take part in football activities. By developing the new changing rooms at St Mary's we have provided facilities that enable the DCFA to have confidence that they can provide their courses in Bridport.

"For many years DCFA courses have been limited to Weymouth or the Poole / Bournemouth conurbation. Hopefully we can now look forward to plenty of opportunities for people in the west of the county to benefit from good quality coaching and well organised soccer schools."

HUTCH: DON'T EXPECT BIG NAMES

Senior happy with his lot

WEYMOUTH manager Ian Hutchinson has told Terras fans not to expect any big name signings this season.

"With the budget we've got and nobody being offered contracts, it will be difficult to attract the better players to the club. I can think of half a dozen who would sign for us tomorrow if the money was there, but it isn't, and we have to get on with the situation.

"I have spoken to a lot of players, but they are sceptical with the situation and want security.

"Andy Mason and I knew that when we returned, and we know it will be tough, but we will do everything we can with the great team of coaches we have around us to make the club a success on the field."

Pre-season training started yesterday, and there were a few absentees through holidays. One face that will be missing both on and off the field is Andy Harris, who decided to hang up his boots this week after a 16-year career. Although he only played two seasons for the Terras, the first in 2005/2006, before returning last season, he made a big impact with the fans, particularly when he took over the caretaker-manager's role earlier this year and will be missed by fans and Hutchinson in particular.

"Andy has decided to call it a day and I respect his decision. He wants to spend more time with his family and concentrate on his job coaching at Kingston Maurward. He is a good friend of Mace and I, and we have told him to let us know if he changes his mind."

Hutch looking forward to the season said: "We have a ten point deduction to overcome first, but if we can stabilise ourselves this season, we can then look to push on next year.

"With the support of Brendon King, Mark Carter and Dave Kiteley we hope that it will bring continuity to the playing side, and help to bring local young talent into the club."

◆ BRIDPORT return to pre-season training tomorrow (Wednesday) with manager Trevor Senior completely open minded about next season.

Senior achieved a lot with his side last season, and is happy that all of last year's squad have committed themselves once again including Dan Wise, who scotched rumours of an approach by Weymouth early on, and Matt Condliffe, who having thought about trying his luck with the Terras, has also committed himself to the Bees.

Senior will be boosted by the return to training, may it only be light, for Matt Moors, who missed most of the last half of the campaign with a knee injury. He has finally had an operation and will resume light training tomorrow.

"It's like having a new player. Matt is a very useful player and we missed his goalscoring prowess when he was injured," said Senior.

Dougie Smith will be at the fore of the training. He joined the club as fitness trainer and coach from Axminster at the end of the season and will be putting the players through a rigorous programme.

"We need to get out of the blocks quickly to make an impact"

"We want to start the way we finished last season," said Senior. "One of the advantages we had with the heavy fixture list was our superior fitness. However we need to get out the blocks quickly to make an impact and so we need to get the lads fit right from go."

Senior has no target signings in mind. He would like to see Sam Charles at St Mary's again but, the big striker has decided to start pre-season at his club Dorchester to see if he can make it there first.

"We have a few trialists coming along, some young lads who I will look at, and possibly a left-sided midfielder, but I am more than happy with what we have already. I will see what develops as the season nears."

Bridport will have one team less to play next season. Wells City and Odd Down have been promoted, with Minehead and Clevedon United leaving the league. They have been replaced by relegated Premier sides Melksham Town and Calne Town and Merthyr Town, formerly Welsh League outfit Merthyr Tydfil FC.

"Merthyr will be a good test, and a long way to travel, but two games less will help particularly if we have weather like we did last season."

The Bees will also have a new management team this season.

Dorchester 289-6 beat

Marnhull 139 all out by 150 runs

DORCHESTER easily defeated bottom side Marnhull to record their fourth consecutive victory and keep pressure on the top two sides, whilst Marnhull whose only victory this season was on the opening day of the season stay rooted to the bottom Pete Moxom who has passed 200 runs in his last three innings was again in splendid form with 76 as Dorchester amassed 289-6 in their allotted overs.

IN-FORM | Pete Moxom 76 runs and three wickets

Losing Steve Geraty first ball without scoring was the only blip on the county town's batting display as Moxom shared stands of 48 with Dave Maslin (20) and 82 with Dan Belt, before departing with the score at 131-3. Belt was finally trapped leg before for 44 by Marnhull's best bowler Andy Booth (2-40).

Rob Waite (46) and Paul Tweddle (45) continued the run feast before captain Martyn Richards hit a quickfire 28 not out.

Phil Morley (1-13) trapped Simon Hasted leg before without scoring when Marnhull replied, and they lost wickets at regular intervals as Andy Mead (3-33) and Moxom (3-43) tore through their batting.

Only Booth (33) and Josh Mackay (29) showed any form as Waite joined in with 3-8 late in the innings including a double wicket maiden.

Richards was pleased with his side's batting display, and apart from Morley's wicket was disappointed they didn't get more from the new ball. The switch to Moxom and Mead certainly paid dividends with Waite's spin mopping up the tail.

Despite it being the perfect day, he was pleased that they had bagged the 20 points to keep them in the chase for the championship.

Parley 227 all out lost

to Weymouth 228-8 by 2 wickets

ANDREW Falloon paved the way for Weymouth's superb two wicket victory over defending champions Parley with a five wicket haul, including a hat-trick, before Laurie Whyte smashed a six off the second ball of the last over to seal victory in a dramatic finish.

The defeat, Parley's first this season, put Weymouth's season back on track after three consecutive losses.

Falloon's fifer (5-20), helped reduce the hosts to an unfamiliar 54-6 before a splendid 95 from Jack Rowett supported by Robbie Gunn (11) and Alexander Nippard (38no) saw them to a respectable 227 all out.

Kiwi Falloon struck after Parley had reached 22 for no loss in the fourth over when he had Matthew Stickland (8) caught behind by Kieron Womble before trapping Mark Elliott leg before with his next ball. He then spread-eagled recent Dorset debutant Raj Naik's stumps to claim his hat trick.

Matt Lawes (2-64) and Falloon continued to cause trouble for the Parley batsmen, but Rowett lifted his side with a determined innings that gave them a chance. Ben Lawes (2-44) also picked up wickets.

Weymouth made a confident start in reply with captain Paul Payne and Jim Ryall seeing off the new ball and looking good, when with the score on 73, Payne (38) hit a full toss down the throat of midwicket.

Ryall continued to hold the innings together with ten boundaries as John Armfield (16) and Womble (20) edged them nearer victory at 140-3.

However when Ryall went for 68 and Ben Lawes (27), Weymouth collapsed and still needed seven runs off the last over.

Lawes (10 no) nudged a single off the first ball before Whyte launched a huge six over midwicket with the next ball to claim victory with two wickets and four balls to spare.

Payne said: "It was a fantastic effort by the team, and particularly by Andy (Falloon). He has been bowling very well at an economical rate without reward this season, so it was great to see it all click into place and getting a fifer.

The wicket was really good and so I was expecting to have to chase in excess of 250, so although it was disappointing that they got to 227 after being 54-6, I would have taken that before we started.

"It shows how economic both Andy (5-20) and Laurie Whyte (0-21) were by only conceding 41 runs between them off 20 overs.

"Jim (Ryall), who was superb, and I made a cracking start, and having seen off the new ball were looking good until I smacked one down midwicket's throat!

"We left it a bit late but to beat Parley who have only dropped one point all season is a fantastic effort. We look forward to Poole Town next week!"

Division One

Beaminster 225 all out beat Ferndown Wayfarers 2nd 144 all out by 81 runs

WITH the halfway point reached Beaminster finally nailed their first win of the season beating fellow strugglers Ferndown Wayfarers 2nd by 81 runs.

A much improved batting performance after last week's debacle at Corfe Mullen saw Ross Baker's charges post a target of 225 all out with Chris Park hitting a half century, before Simon Jones (5-43) and spinner Mark Barber (3-43) rip through the Wayfarers batting after it looked like the visitors would condemn Beaminster to their eighth defeat of the season.

Baker was not only very relieved that his team had finally got of the mark, but was also optimistic that they could still retain their place in Division One despite being marooned at the bottom.

"This was just about our strongest team, and if we can keep this side every week then we have a chance. The problem is unavailability, particularly at away games, because many of the side have to work on Saturday mornings and can't get away in time.

"We were gutted after last week, and know we let ourselves down, but it was a much improved performance, particularly our batting, and we were very determined."

Winning the toss Baker decided to be positive and bat, and for once they got the start they needed as Park and Richard Runyard put on 66 for the first wicket. Both batted watchfully, and despite the ball swinging, showed good technique and looked comfortable.

However first change bowler B Ballam made the crucial breakthrough. Cleverly moving the ball off the seam and swinging it away he bowled Runyard for 22 before having Nick David (5) caught.

Chris Park (56) passed his half century then became Ballam's third victim as he was bowled with a ball that gently rolled under his bat and just removed the bail. Simon Jones poor run of form continued as he was bowled leaving Beaminster struggling on 103-5, but Joe Hawkins (17) and Dan Hillier rebuilt the innings slowly, before the latter was harshly given out lbw for a well constructed 23.

Lower down the order, Mark Gough made an excellent 28 and accelerated the innings with all the batsmen chipping in with a few runs before Beaminster were finally all out for 225.

In reply, Ferndown's Mark Annersley played some superb shots and punished Beaminster's opening bowlers. Although Martin took a wicket, runs flowed at an alarming rate and the visitors had 50 on the board in just six overs.

However, Beaminster's fortunes changed with the introduction of Jones and Barber, and they soon had Ferndown in trouble. Jones bowled Snook (13) and then with the score on 88 trapped skipper Jason Thake (6) and Stacey leg before with consecutive balls.

Brooks (14) offered a little resistance with Annersley, but when he went the bottom order collapsed. Although Annersley protracted the inning, he was finally last out for a superb 84 to Mark Gough's fifth ball.

"Simon (Jones) bowled superbly, as he has done most of the season, trapping three of his victim's leg before, and in tandem with Mark (Barber), who bowled a good flight, they did the job. Mark gives us some variation and Mark Gough is also a useful all rounder for us, today with a quickfire 28 to raise us above 200 and trapping Annersley at the end.

"The win gives us some hope and it's not all doom and gloom. There are three or four teams near the bottom who don't look that good, but we need to beat them to give ourselves an outside opportunity."

Weymouth 2nd 183-9 lost to Suttons 187-1 by 9 wickets

DESPITE a lovely batting track, a middle order batting collapse meant Weymouth's 2nds were never going to mount a serious challenge to league leaders Suttons at Redlands where Dorset's Darren Cowley decimated the bowling.

Despite losing Dean Janaway (5) early on, Mike Pearce (21) and a fine half-century from James Almond saw Weymouth looking in command at 89-1 after just 18 overs.

However when Almond went for 58 and Pearce followed on the same score, there followed a procession of batsmen who failed to take advantage of the pitch that saw the Seaside's collapse to 142-9. It took an unbroken last wicket stand of 41 between Neil Walton (30 not out) and skipper Jim Ryan (8 not out) to add two more batting points as the innings closed at 183-9.

Although Mike Pearce removed A Brown with the score on 41, caught by Ryan, Cowley and N Arnold made light of the Weymouth attack as they scorched to victory in just 25 overs. Cowley, who hit ten fours and five sixes, one an immense 100 metres way beyond the ropes, was unbeaten on 83 not out, whilst Arnold finished 57 not out.

Ryan said: "Having won the toss on a lovely wicket there was only one decision - to bat. We knew it was going to be a tough match but thought that we could set them a target of 250+.

"Unfortunately we didn't help ourselves once James (Almond) was out, and didn't apply ourselves very well. The wicket was OK as Neil (Walton) and I proved scoring an unbeaten 41 for the tenth wicket. There were no demons in the wicket, and their bowling was nothing special.

"The wicket was so placid, that as well as we bowled it negated our efforts, and once Darren Cowley got going there was no stopping him. I tried several bowlers to try and get another wicket or two for bowling points but they had no problems."

DIVISION TWO

Swanage 196 all out

lost to Dorchester 2nd 197-5 by 5 wickets

DORCHESTER 2nds eased their worries with an exciting five wicket win at Swanage.

The hosts won the toss and elected to bat, and after 17 overs had 80 on the board. But some good bowling from Joe Power (4-43), Ian Sibley (2-23) and James Dunham (3-37), and a terrific catch from Justin Miller who plucked the ball out of the air as it was sailing for six, eventually saw Swanage reduced to 195 all out.

Dorchester last Nick Roe (1) early on, but another superbly engineered innings of 65 from Colin Edney saw off any doubts. He had good support from Lewis Chutter (15) and a quickfire 29 from Dave Herbert, before skipper Sibley steered the side home with 49 not out with an over to spare.

"Sibley said: "It was closer than it looks. They bowled well but a good overall team performance won us the points."

Division Three

Cattistock 302-5 beat

Bridport 152 all out by 150 runs

BRIDPORT crashed to a heavy defeat at Cattistock to plunge them further in trouble.

The home side amassed 302-5 in their 45 overs before dismissing Bridport for just half that total.

Martinstown 181 all out

lost to Cerne Valley 197 all out by 16 runs

Martinstown came up short by 16 runs in losing at home to Cerne Valley where more consistent batting was the key.

Winning the toss the visitors decided to bat, and although they lost David Baney leg before to Stuart Fry for a duck, good contributions from Healey (37), Neil Kellaway (29), Ed Ford (24) and S Tucker (38) and a late 23 from Dave Portch saw them reach 197 all out.

Fry was by far the most successful bowler with 6-28 from his nine overs, whilst Matthew Camp grabbed 2-22.

Skipper Nick Quintrell said: "I was quite happy on such a hard and true wicket to restrict them to a sub 200 total particularly as Danny Dancer could only bowl four overs due to nigging injury. "Stuart bowled with great pace and hostility and was excellent, whilst Matthew Camp also bowled very well, swing at a decent pace, and picked up the wicket of the dangerous Neil Kellaway."

Martinstown list both openers, Ed Nicholls (0) and Lee House (6) with only 13 on the board, and at 47-4 were in trouble, but a stand of 78 between Dancer (29) and Fry revived their fortunes and with Quintrell (25) contributing, it looked good for the hosts.

However the introduction of R Lawson (4-31) brought a dramatic change as the last four wickets tumbled for four runs.

Quintrell added: "Cerne were worthy winners though, deserved of the victory and upheld the spirit in which cricket should always be played throughout. We will look forward to facing them again in the final fixture."

Division Four

Pimperne 153-7 beat

Beaminster 2nd 150 all out

A NARROW three run defeat leaves Beaminster anchored at the foot of the Division Four table.

Division Five

Lychett Manor 205 all out

lost to Weymouth 3rd 208-7 by 3 wickets

WEYMOUTH 3rds made it six wins on the bounce as they comfortably eased home against Lychett Manor with nine overs to spare.

Winning the toss skipper Joe Tremlett decided to field and used just four bowlers. Graham Puckett was the pick of them with 5-48 whilst he got good support from Sami Rathnayke (2-38), Cameron Armfield (2-51) and Tim Guyett (1-57).

Lychett's opener Neil Goodman top scored for the hosts with 85 with Tom Macleod (22), Mark Wilson (28) and Peter Sparks (24) contributing in a score of 205 all out.

Trevett (37) and Craig Johnson (19) got Weymouth's reply off to a good start with a stand of 70, and with Ben Mackie (21) and Armfield (49) weighing in with good knocks, they soon made light of their total.

The win keeps Weymouth in second place.

DIVISION SIX

Bridport 2nd 238-6 beat

Abbotsbury 171 all out by 67 runs.

BOTH these sides went into this game with identical records and points this season, and it looked at one time that they might still be inseparable at the end.

Bridport were floundering a bit on 119-6 before Toby Hall with an excellent 89 not out and Rob Condliffe (53 not out) doubled their total to 238-6.

Abbotsbury lost two early wickets, but recovered with Marcus Evans and Robin Potter putting on a century partnership for the third wicket and looked to be matching their hosts.

However Robin Jones finally broke their stand before Rod Gay and young Jack Walklett sent the villagers spinning to a 67 run defeat.

Gay (26) and Ed Halson (21) saw Bridport off to a steady start putting on 36 for the first wicket against a side struggling as injuries; work commitments and rival attractions in London and Glastonbury meant the inclusion of two more debutants in a team.

However consistent bowling from Gary Pittman (2-37) and Marcus Evans (4-51) saw a steady fall of wickets as Will Gape (21), Jamie Dollman (2) Pete Bastin (4) and Tom Lings (0) perished as Bridport declined to 119-6.

However Hall and Condliffe took advantage of some hot, tired fielders as the Abbotsbury side, whose average age was rather too high for comfort in the sweltering conditions started to wilt, and doubled Bridport's score.

Abbotsbury were soon in trouble with both openers gone for just 16; Pittman's run out seemingly unnecessary but the youthful Evans with 82, and spritely veteran Robin Potter (24) looked to have put them back in the game as Bridport skipper Dollman rotated seven bowlers in a bid to break them.

Eventually both fell to Jones, and with the introduction of Gay (4-11 from seven overs) and 13-year-old Walklett (2-28), only Dave Jewell (17) showed any resistance as Abbotsbury were dismissed for 171 all out.

Ferndown Wayfarers 4th 90 all out

lost to Dorchester 3rd 91-1 by 9 wickets

FOURTEEN-YEAR-OLD Sam Roles produced another dazzling display of off spin taking his second five wicket haul in as many weeks and Nick Beer produced a classical batting display to carry his bat for 37 not out as Dorchester coasted to victory over bottom side Ferndown Wayfarers in only 16 overs.

The hosts batted first and lost their first wicket at 25 when Steve Pitaway (17) was bowled for 17 by Mat King. Opening left arm bowler John Legg bowled extremely well and without luck as four catches went down in five overs as Thomas (25) and Godfrey added 36 for the second wicket. The introduction of Roles had immediate effect as Thomas was trapped leg before, and in his next over he removed Godfrey to leave Ferndown on 63-3.

George Chubb (1-7) had Stroud excellently caught one handed by Jamie Quinten behind the stumps, before Quinten stumped Thornton, and Chubb took an excellent reaction catch at short square leg, both off Roles, to reduce them to 66-6.

Mat King (1-24) came back into the attack and bowled captain Pete Martin with an excellent off cutter taking out the off stump, and John Legg (1-24) finally had success in his second spell having Bonny (1) well caught at short cover by the diving Hugh Pryce. Roles took a lovely caught and bowled before a run out of Lewis Naylor brought the innings to an abrupt close with the score on 90 all out.

The Dorchester reply was patient but effective as the fifty run partnership between Jae Miller and 16-year-old Nick Beer came up in the tenth over, before Miller (18) was the only wicket to fall, returning a catch to bowler Sam Stroud. Beer and Tom Cottrell batted fluently however batted fluently to see Dorchester home with plenty of overs to spare.

Pete Tucker said: "A very young Ferndown Wayfarers team was no match for the young keen Dorchester team. Special mention must again go Sam Roles and his second five wicket haul of the season.

Nick Beer showed what a batsman in the making we have as he cut, pulled and drove the ball to every area of the Ferndown Wayfarers ground to carry his bat with nearly 30 overs remaining. What was also very pleasing was how the young Dorchester bowlers used variations of line, length and speed with great maturity.

Seventeen-year-old George Chubb bowled seven overs for only seven runs, swinging the ball both ways to torment the opposition batsmen."

SUNDAY DIVISION FOUR

Symene 240-6 beat

Portland RT 206 all out by 34 runs

A MARK Tozer century and half century from Liam Toohill were the backbone to the Symene innings that saw them earn their fourth victory of the season against Portland RT.

Tozer came to the wicket with the hosts 16-2 having lost Colin Willcox to the first ball he faced and Phil Hawkins (11). He added 122 for the third wicket with Toohill (55), before enjoying a fourth wicket stand of 70 with Marcel Grunschloss (19).

Tozer hit 15 4s and two 6s before he was out for a superb 122, and with Sam Challis 28 not out at the end they set Portland a testing target.

CENTURY | Mark Tozer cracked 122

Opener C Leak (45) gave Portland a solid start, whilst C Laws batting at four with 66 not out, meant they always had a chance. However needing 90 to win from 15 overs, 15-year-old C Brown was run out for 21, and the tide turned in Symene's favour.

Willcox finished the innings off with successive wickets, the first a smart catch low down at midwicket by skipper Richard Keech, and then bowling the last man.

This means he goes into the next match against bottom side Charlton Down on a hat trick.

Symene will be looking to beat their next three opponents. After Charlton Down they meet Lychett Minster and Pokesdown Willows who are all below them. Keech believes that if they can win at least two of the three then they should avoid any scramble to avoid relegation at the end of the season.

FRIENDLY

North Perrott 121 all out

lost to Broadwindsor 122-9 by 1 wicket

BROADWINDSOR squeezed home by one wicket in a friendly at North Perrott.

The hosts were dismissed for 121 with Steve Boudy taking 5-35 and brother Nick 3-21.

Broadwindsor passed their total with a wicket to spare thanks to 35 from Joe Hawkins and Steve Phillips (20).

Colfox trio best in the West All Saints sail to victory

THREE Sir John Colfox School athletes continued their winning ways by taking gold in the South-West Schools Inter-counties Championships at Exeter recently.

Fresh from winning their county titles a week earlier, Holly Butt and Megan and Alistair Tuck once again excelled against athletes from the other five regional counties.

Holly who is rapidly establishing herself as the quickest girl around Bridport in 30 years since Anna Gurd, continued her unbeaten record this season by sprinting home in the Junior Girls 100m and 200m events.

Now ranked in the top 15 runners in the country for her age, she destroyed the field in the 100m winning in a time of 12.4 seconds, before doubling up with a scintillating run to take the 200m title by knocking 0.5 second off her personal best to win in 25.7 seconds, again establishing herself in the country's top 15 for the event.

Megan reversed her success in the county competition where she won the discus and was third in the hammer. Here she won the Senior Girl's hammer with a throw of 35.97 metres, and was second in the discus with 34.36 metres. A county champion six years in a row, she is ranked in the top 20 in the country for the discus.

Brother Alistair, having won the county Boys Intermediate hammer title with a throw of 52.31, produced a personal best of 53.28 metres to win with South-West championship and claim a place in the country's top 20.

The three now take on the best in the country at the English Schools Athletics Championship's in Birmingham in July.

Beamster School's Kirsty Wickham also qualified, but a back injury unfortunately meant she was not at her best, and she finished 13th in the Junior Girls high jump with 1.40 metres, and sixth in her heat of the 75m hurdles.

BEES SUPPORT FOR CHAIRMAN SCADDING

BRIDPORT Football Club chairman Adrian Scadding beat off a bid to oust him at last week's Annual General Meeting.

In a balloted vote Scadding, is believed to have received unanimous support following a challenge from vice-chairman Chris Tozer.

In his report prior to the election of officers, Scadding who will now begin his fifth term at the helm of the club highlighted how the new changing rooms and refurbishment of the Beehive had improved the club's financial standing.

"The club has thrived since the acquisition of the new changing rooms, toilets and refurbishment of the club house and we now host a number of functions including weddings, wakes, birthdays and christenings, and a number of local organisations for things like presentation nights."

He went on to thank the directors for their hard work behind the scenes and confirmed that the club are currently securing a new training facility that would be announced early in the season.

He also thanked his committee and vice-chairman Tozer for their support and hard work.

He congratulated Elizabeth Wright, who was recognised for her hard work by the Dorset FA for her efforts last season, beating her previous best fund raising record.

There was also a word of thanks to another fundraiser Roger Lewis who runs the summer draw. Last year he raised enough for the club to buy a widescreen television for the club house.

"Without him we wouldn't be able to watch the World Cup in the Beehive!"

This year Chris Tozer retired as groundsman to be succeeded by Sean Coombes.

"We thank Chris for all the hard work he has put in for the club over a number of seasons, and would like to welcome Sean who is fitting in well and shows a lot of enthusiasm."

The chairman also thanked all the team managers for their hard work and success.

Of the first team he said: "Trevor has proved himself to be very popular both on and off the field. They had a great season with a good run in the FA Cup and FA Vase, reaching the semi-final of the Les Phillips Cup and finishing a very creditable tenth in the league."

"Reserve team manager Mike Savage, bearing in mind they are there to feed the first team, did very well despite the problems. Although they finished in the bottom half of the Dorset Premier League, they did win the Dorset Senior trophy with a great win over Weymouth Sports."

"Steve Crabb and Mark Lock had a very successful season with the third team. Despite losing narrowly in the final of the Dorset Junior Cup to Windown, they stormed the league, winning it with two games to spare."

All the other officers were re-elected en-block by a unanimous vote.

Get your thinking caps on WHO will be this year's Eggheads and who will be the Weakest Link?

Bridport Football Club is once again running their annual General Knowledge Quiz which will answer these questions.

Entry to this year's competition has been widened to include any club, pub or organisation.

Teams of four will compete for the trophy on Friday July 9th at the Beehive, St Marys Field, starting at 8.15pm. There will be an entry fee of £8.00 per team.

The winners and runners-up will receive trophies for their teams.

Sports clubs and others will be relieved to know that there is no World Cup football on that evening!

Last year's winners the Oddfellows Cricket Club have said that they will defend their title and it is hoped that around fifteen teams will enter this year - the more the merrier.

If your club, pub or organisation would like to enjoy a fun quiz evening then please contact the organiser Alan Kidson, either by e-mail: kidson@tiscali.co.uk or telephone 01308 420135.

A swift response would be appreciated to ensure all arrangements can be completed.

STUDENTS from All Saints School, Weymouth sailed to victory in the 2010 Dorset Schools Regatta held at the Weymouth and Portland National Sailing Academy (WPNSA) centre last Thursday.

Sixteen schools entered the competition involving three 12-16 year old students from each school competing in fleet racing heats in Laser Pico dinghies with eleven going through to the final run by SailLaser.

Sam Barker of All Saints was the individual winner over the five race final, with Millie Allcock of St Edwards second and Barker's teammate James Bishop third. With colleague Jordan Frederick they won the team event and were presented with the trophy by Nicola Lane of the Chesil Trust.

Emma Dawson from SailLaser commented: "SailLaser and Rockley Watersports have worked together to enable as many schools as possible across Dorset to compete against each other in this event, and everyone has thoroughly enjoyed themselves."

The Dorset Schools Regatta which had 45 school children participating this year aims to get school children more involved in the sport of sailing by encouraging grassroots level participation in the racing side of the sport.

The Regatta invites schools in Dorset to participate and provides sailing instructors and all sailing and safety equipment needed.

John Tweed, Chief Executive at the WPNSA added: "We are delighted to have so many children participating in this regatta enjoying the first class sailing facilities that we offer. We will look forward to seeing them all again next year with hopefully some more newcomers as well."

Tame Wildcats beaten again

WEYMOUTH WILDCATS 39 DUDLEY HEATHENS 53

National Speedway League FORMER Wildcats Lee Smart (13+1) and Jon Armstrong (15+1) put the boot into their former club as National League newcomers Dudley Heathens sent them crashing to another defeat at the Wessex FM Raceway on Friday night.

Byron Bekker returned after his recent back injury to post 11 points for the hosts with Gary Cottham (10+1) giving great support, but it was once again a tough night for the Wildcats.

Reserve Richard Andrews crashed in the second heat and took no further part in the meeting meaning new signing Luke Chessel took a maximum seven rides on his home debut for a 6+1 return.

Fortunately Andrews was given the all clear to return for next Friday's meeting against the Scunthorpe Saints after a trip to hospital.

Bekker stormed away in heat one inflicting what was to be Smarts only defeat by a Wildcat, while new Aussie Michael Dyer making his debut for the midlands club grabbed third.

It was feared the injury jinx was striking the luckless Cats again with Andrews bouncing along the back straight fence in heat two, with Ashley Morris pegging Chessel back in the re-run heat.

Dyer was out again in the third producing an impressive first win in Heathens colours holding off Cottham and Tom Brown in the re-run heat after Jake Anderson caused Brown to fall, Heathens now leading 8-10. James Cockle ground to a halt in the fourth while leading Armstrong who took advantage with Chessel in second. Smart way out front combined with Dyer for a 4-2 in heat five split by Brown before the Wildcats then six points down banged in two 5-1's. Bekker and Cottham kept Armstrong in third in heat six and Cockle with Chessel kept Ross Walter, making his National League debut, in third after Anderson fell giving the Cats a slender two point lead.

Cockle won heat eight while Armstrong again took the flag in the re-run heat nine after a four lap wheel to wheel challenge with Cottham cutting inside on the last turn after Brown's earlier fall to level the scores at 27-27. Bekker kept the Heathens at bay in heat 10 before Smart and Dyer teamed up round the outside of the second turn for a 5-1 over lone Cat Cockle, Wildcats having to track one rider only due to Andrews withdrawal. Brown was sandwiched in-between Armstrong and Morris in heat 12. Heathens pounded in a 5-1 with Armstrong and Smart over Bekker with Cockle again suffering mechanical problems.

Last throw of the dice in heat 14 for stand in team manager Phil Bartlett and his charges who were now 10 points adrift. Cottham in as a tactical ride raced to second in the re-run heat after Morris took a first bend tumble. Cottham was unable to overhaul Anderson, which gave the Heathens an away win.

Armstrong and Smart raced off for a 5-1 to rub salt into the wound in the last heat to give a meeting result of 39-53.

INSIDE: Comprehensive local sports news round-up

TOO LATE FOR BEAMINSTER?

With the return fixtures this Saturday signalling the midway point of this season's cricket, what are the chances of our local sides? writes STUART BROOM.

Beaminster finally broke their duck by winning against nearest relegation candidates Wimborne Wayfarers last Saturday in Division One, but is it too late?

Captain Ross Baker admits that his choice is limited for away games because some of his players work on Saturday mornings and because of their geographical disadvantage are suffering the consequences.

Weymouth 2nd's should be OK. Fourth from bottom they should have enough blend of experience and youth to stay out of danger.

In the Premier Division, both Dorchester and Weymouth's fortunes are on the up.

The county town are tucked in behind Poole Town and Parley but might find that the disadvantage of losing three games to the weather, one more than their rivals, might be too much to overcome to win the league.

Weymouth are fourth bottom with five losses and three wins, but their superb victory over champions Parley suggests they should improve.

Dorchester 2nd's under new skipper Ian Sibley sit comfortably in midtable in Division Two.

It's more doom and gloom in Division Three where Bridport after winning the first two games of the season and looking like promotion candidates have lost their last six and have slumped to second bottom. They also have selection problems, and could face the drop if they cannot be re-selected.

Martinstown who achieved consecutive promotions are finding life harder, and having beaten Bridport comfortably recently sit in midtable, although a third promotion is unlikely.

Beaminster 2nd's are in an even worse situation than their peers. They languish at the bottom of Division Four and seem unlikely to avoid the drop.

Weymouth 3rds are locked in a battle with Sherborne at the top of Division Five. Joe Tremlett's charges are keeping the pressure on their North Dorset rivals, and the league could be decided in their clash at the end of July.

Dorchester 3rds, like Martinstown have gained successive promotions. Unbeaten during that time, they lost their first game in two years a month ago, but are challenging for promotion for a third time, tucked in behind current leaders Sturminster Marshall.

At the other end of the table Bridport 2nd's are struggling. Having won two of their opening four, they then lost four on the bounce before beating Abbotsbury last Saturday. Abbotsbury are struggling for players but are enjoying themselves regardless of the consequences.

In the Sunday League Division Four Symene can almost certainly ensure safety if they win two of their next three matches.
